FIRST EDITION.

TWELVE O'CLOCK M.

FORTIETH CONGRESS.

Osage Treaty Resolutions—The Union Pacific Railroad, Central Branch Discussed—Ex-Rebels Defeated in the House—Resolution of Thanks to Hon. Edwin M. Stanton Finally Passed, &c., &c.

[By Telegraph to Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 19, 1868.

On motion of Mr. MORGAN, the adverse vote of yesterday on the bill for the relief of certain exporters of rum and alcohol was reconsidered.

Mr. COLE moved an amendment to include whisky exported from the Pacific coast to Amoor river under similar contracts, which was rejected, and the bill then passed—26 to 14.

The Chair laid before the Senate the resolution passed by the House yesterday denouncing the land treaty with the Osage Indians, which were read.

Mr. SUMNER said the resolutions related to a matter that should properly come before the Senate in Executive Session. They were transferred to the Executive Session and referred to the Committee on Indian Affairs.

On motion of Mr. HOWARD, the act relative to the Central Branch of the Union Pacifi railroad was taken up.

Mr. EDMUNDS addressed the Senate in opposition and Mr. HOWARD followed in advocacy of the bill.

Mr. HENDRICKS followed in favor of the bill, which was discussed until ten minutes after 5 o'clock, when, with the understanding that it be again taken up Monday next, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. WASHBURNE, Indiana, from the Committee on Military, reported a bill in relation to additional bounties. Ordered to be printed and recommitted.

Mr. BANKS presented resolutions of the State of Massachusetts relative to a ship canal connecting Lakes Erie and Ontario. Ordered to be printed and referred to the Committee on Roads and Canals.

Mr. KITCHEN, from the Committee on Military, reported a bill providing for the appointment of a commission to examine and report on certain claims of the State of New York. Ordered to be printed and recommitted.

The bill regulating the carriage of passengers on steamships and on other vessels was passed.

The House proceeded, as business of the morning hour, to the consideration of the bill for the extension of the wood screw patents of Thomas W. Harvey, the question being on the motion of Mr. Stevens, Pa., to lay the bill on the table.

Mr. MYERS withdrew the demand for the previous question, in order that an explanation might be made in regard to the bill. He said he had been instructed by a unanimous vote of the Committee on Patents to report the bill—that there was perhaps more merit in it than in any other bill reported for the extension of a patent.

The SPEAKER answered that in the absence of Mr. Stevens the motion could not be withdrawn.

Mr. GARFIELD said if it were withdrawn he would renew it.

Mr. FARNSWORTH demanded the yeas and nays, saying this bill had been killed three times already.

After discussion the vote was taken and the bill was not laid on the table—yeas 49, nays 81.

After debate the bill was rejected—yeas 64, nays 71.

The morning hour having expired, Mr. FARNSWORTH, from the Conference Committee on the bill removing political disabilities from certain persons in Southern States made a report in favor of striking out the names of Geo. S. Houston, of Alabama, and Geo. W. Jones, of Tennessee.

Mr. BECK, of the minority of the Committee, opposed the report and spoke of the high character of the two men who were excluded by it. He knew no reason for it, if it were not that Mr. Jones might probably be regarded as a dangerous competitor for Congress in the District in which he lived.

Mr. FARNSWORTH defended the report. He said that when the Senate amendment was referred to the Committee on Reconstruction, that Committee naturally consulted members from Tennessee as to the condition of Mr. Jones' mind, and came to the conclusion from what they said that until Mr. Jones asked to be relieved from disabilities it was not worth while for Congress to tender amnesty to him. He did not inquire into the politics of a man proposed to be relieved, but he did inquire as to whether he was acting with the loyal people of the United States or was acting with rebels of the South.

After further discussion the bill was defeated by a vote of yeas 77, nays 55, less than two-thirds voting for it. A motion to reconsider the matter was made and deferred till Monday next.

The House then proceeded to business on the Speaker's table, and disposed thereof, as follows:

The Senate amendment to the House joint resolution for turning over damaged ordnance for the Lincoln monument. Agreed to.

Senate amendments to the House bill to amend the act of March 25th, 1864, providing for carrying the mails from the United States to foreign ports, were concurred in.

Senate amendment to the House bill to continue the Freedmen's Bureau. Concurred in.

Senate amendment to the House bill to extend the boundaries of the Collection District of Philadelphia, so as to include the whole consolidated city of Philadelphia. Concurred in.

Senate amendment to the House bill relating to the Supreme Court of the United States. Concurred in.

Senate amendments to the House bill in relation to Collection District in Michigan. Concurred in.

Senate amendments to the House bill for the relief of certain exporters of distilled spirits, by striking out the word "alcohol." Concurred in.

The concurrent Senate resolution giving thanks of Congress to Edwin M. Stanton. Passed—102 to 24.

The Senate joint resolution authorizing a change of mail service from horse service to post coach service between Fort Abercrombie and Helena, Montana, came up for consideration. A discussion ensued.

Mr. DELANO moved it be tabled.

Without disposing of the motion the House adjourned.

THE RACE.

Coulter Breaks an Oar and Stops on the Third Stroke—Hamill Goes Over the Course and Claims the Race—The Stakes Awarded to Hamill.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA, June 19, 1868.

The excitement regarding the race subsided yesterday, and while many hundred persons lined the banks of the Schuylkill to-day to witness the final test between Hamill and Coulter, still the general interest had subsided. At four o'clock both men made their appearance in their boats and were greeted with a mild form of applause from their respective friends. Both dipped their oars at the word "go," but Coulter unfortunately broke his right oar in two on the third stroke and stopped. Hamill rowed on over the course and come back leisurely to the judges' boat, and claimed the race, Coulter rowed to the shore, got in a buggy, and was driven to his quarters. It is claimed, according to the rules of the course, that Hamill is justly entitled to the stakes and championship, although many of his friends say he will not accept the decision in his favor under such circumstances. The referee and judges meet to make up their minds, at the Girard House, to-night. All public interest is lost in the affair, and aquatic sport is away down below par. K.

SECOND DISPATCH.

Hamill has been awarded the stakes and declared the winner. He hesitated to accept the award but his friends urged him to do so, as it is in strict keeping with the rules of the course. Another race will probably at once be arranged. Very little excitement prevails here over the result. The Coulter men are very sore, while everybody, who is not pecuniarily interested, is heartily disgusted with the whole affair. Most of the Pittsburghers leave for home to-night. K.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 19, 1868.

There was another failure in the boat race to-day. Coulter broke one of his oars on the third pull, and Hamill pulled slowly over the course. The race attracted little attention.

LATEST.

Hamill was declared the winner. Time thirty-eight minutes and twenty seconds.

New York City Matters.

FROM EUROPE.

Proposed Honors to Abyssinian Troops—Art Treasures of Venice—New Sovereign for Servia—Newspapers Libelled.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, June 19.—Midnight.—In the House of Lords this evening Earl Edinburg, in some remarks on the Abyssinian expedition, suggested that on account of the unusual character of the service performed by the troops, special honors be paid to them upon their return from the scene of the exploit.

Earl of Malmsbury, in reply, said that the Ministry had not yet considered the point.

The Duke of Cambridge, Commander-in-Chief of the army, expressed the opinion that unusual honors to the members of the Abyssinian expedition would be a bad precedent.

The subject then dropped.

The London Telegraph has been condemned in £960 for the publication of a libel.

FRANCE.

PARIS, June 19.—A solemn requiem mass was performed here to-day in commemoration of Ex-Emperor Maximillian, it being the anniversary of his execution at Queretaro. The Ex-Empress Carlotta and Mrs. Gen. Miramon and a large number of Mexicans were present.

Mr. Clusert, editor of the Journal of Art, has been condemned to two months imprisonment in jail and a fine of 1,000 francs for an article published in that paper.

SERVIA.

LONDON, June 19.—It appears the announcement that Prince Milan, nephew of the late sovereign of Servia, had been proclaimed ruler of that principality, was an error. The Memorial Diplomatique says the powers have agreed to leave Servia free to choose her own Prince. The selection of Milan was considered a certainty.

AUSTRIA.

VIENNA, June 19.—Negotiations have been renewed between Austria and Italy for the final disposition of art treasures at Venice.

The Emperor Francis Joseph and Baron Beust are about to make a visit to Prague.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

LONDON, June 19—Evening.—Consols for money, 94⅞@95. Accounts, 5. Bonds, 73¾. Illinois Central, 100½. Erie, 45¾.

FRANKFORT, June 19.—Bonds, 77⅝@77¾.

ANTWERP, June 19.—Petroleum firmer and unchanged.

"Reconstruction" in Louisiana.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, June 19.—A telegram from Gen. Grant has been promulgated by Gen. Buchanan, in the form of an order, for the instruction and guidance of all concerned.

General Grant approves General Buchanan's course, saying that civil officers elected cannot be installed until the State is admitted, and until then the State government is provisional and entirely under the control of Gen. Buchanan, and leaves matters as to oaths to be taken by the new officers, &c., entirely to Gen. Buchanan's judgment, suggesting that the oaths prescribed by the new Constitution only should be required. This suggestion if adopted, will permit many officers to qualify who could not otherwise do so.

NEW ORLEANS, June 19.—To-morrow the Republican will contain a proclamation by the Registration Board modifying those previously issued to conform to the Omnibus bill, providing the Governor elect shall convene the Assembly after the bill becomes a law, conforming to that part relating to the inauguration of civil officers in the same bill.

The case of George Ruby, colored member of the Texas Convention and delegate to the Chicago Convention, against the steamship Morgan for five thousand dollars damages, for refusing him admission to cabin passage on the trip from Galveston to Brashear City, was decided to-day by Judge Durell, awarding seven thousand five hundred dollars damages.

Upon learning of General Grant's endorsement of General Buchanan's action, Ex-Mayor Heath's attorney inquired if it would affect the pending writ of quo warranto against the Mayor. Commanding General Buchanan replied that the writ would not be allowed to take its course.

Matters in California.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SANFRANCISCO, June 18.—The first samples of new wheat have reached this city and are of excellent quality.

The last gap in the railroad connection between California and Nevada was closed last evening after eight oclock. The laying of the track for the space of six miles was delayed by snow. But the Central Pacific Railroad is now in operation from Sacramento to Reno, near Virginia City, one hundred and fifty miles. About the first of June boats will run to Big Bend, on Truckee river, Nevada, one hundred and eighty miles east of Sacramento. Grading is rapidly progressing across the desert from Big Bend to Humbolt Lake, and the whole force of laborers will be at once moved on the line to Salt Lake. This portion of the road can be built as rapidly as that east of the Rocky Mountains. The Company is putting forth every exertion to reach Salt Lake before the Union Pacific, and expect to be there July 4th, 1869.

Georgia State Items.

ATLANTA, June 19.—The Constitutionalist contains a card of General Gordon declining the use of his name for the United States Senate.

A large number of persons from this section will go to the New York Convention.

Twenty-eight prisoners from Columbus are here under guard, some of them in close cells. It is said they are charged with the Ashburn assassination, and were arrested at the instance of a Washington City detective.

The crop prospects are not flattering, on account of the dry weather.

The first lot of new wheat sold here yesterday at $2,10 per bushel.

THE CAPITAL.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 19, 1868.

FALSE RUMORS.

There is no foundation for the report published here this afternoon that Mr. McCulloch to-day transmitted to the President his resignation as Secretary of the Treasury.

ADDITIONAL PAY TO ARMY OFFICERS.

The House Committee on Military Affairs had under consideration to-day a bill proposing to give officers of the army thirty-three and one-third additional pay. No action was reached. The subject will be resumed next Thursday. There is little prospects of such a bill becoming a law.

CALLED ON GRANT.

Hon. Anson Burlingame called on Gen. Grant at army headquarters, this morning, and had an interview.

Washington Topics and Gossip.

The President has approved the Naval Appropriation Bill.

Messrs. Butler and Bingham are still at work on their report, but owing to an unpleasant hiatus in the evidence they will not be able to close it for some days.

The whisky and tobacco tax bill is to be reported next Monday, and it is quite probable that it will be passed without delay as all the members are anxious for an early adjournment.

Mr. Caldwell, of Cincinnati, has been confirmed as Minister to Bolivia.

Mr. Chase denies that he has asked the President to remove Secretary McCulloch. The Chief Justice went to Baltimore to-day.

TORONTO, June 19.—A large quantity of military stores, direct from Woolwich, arrived here for the use of the regulars and volunteers; also, shot and shell for the gunboats.

Pedestrianism.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BOSTON, June 19.—The referee in the hundred mile walking match between McEttrick and Scott has awarded the stakes to the latter, it appearing McEttrick employed a substitute two hours in the night, which materially aided him in doing the task inside of twenty-one hours.

BOSTON, June 19.—The walking match of one hundred miles for a purse of three thousand dollars, between Weston and Topley, the English pedestrian, commenced this afternoon at Mystic Park.

New Railroad Project.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BUFFALO, June 9.—A new railway, to be styled the Buffalo and Southern Railway, is projected, to connect Buffalo and Baltimore by a direct route, making the distance equal to that between Buffalo and Albany. The new road by proper connections will only require one hundred and twenty miles of new rails to be laid. The company has already organized, and pioneer railway engineer Wallace is instructed to survey the route.

The Saengerfest at Chicago.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 19.—The additional arrivals to the Saengerfest last night and this morning increase the number of delegates present to about two thousand, representing sixty-one Societies. The rehearsal to-day was far better attended than heretofore, the great attraction being violincello playing of Mollenhauer. The concert to-night will be mainly instrumental.

Boston Items.

BOSTON, June 19.—The officers at the navy yard celebrated the fourth anniversary of the sinking of the Alabama by the Kearsage to-day.

The trial of Andrews for the murder of Holmes will not take place before November. It is understood the grand jury has found an indictment for wilful murder.

Death from Chloroform.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

TROY, N. Y., June 19.—Henry A. Mercer, of Chicago, who was a passenger from New York on the steamer Connecticut last night, took an over-dose of chloroform to quiet a neuralgic affection. He was found insensible in his berth this morning at eleven o'clock. He was an extensive pork operator.

Crops in Maryland.

BALTIMORE, June 19.—Crop reports show them in good condition, but rain is much needed in this portion of the State.

Detroit Market.

DETROIT, June 19—Flour dull and lower; choicest brands selling at $12,25. Wheat firm, holders asking an advance; no important sales.

—A Toronto (Canada) special says: The Government is taking active precautions with respect to all anticipated Fenian raids. Transport trains are being formed on the frontier near Niagara. Brigades of volunteers and regulars are being formed for active service at London, Hamilton and Toronto. Complete provisions are made in the event of the telegraph wires or railroad lines being cut, large quantities of ammunition and camp equipage being sent to the front; and all the rural battalions are to be called out for a week's drill, and the city battalions to drill two days per week. The public is getting excited as the twenty-first approaches. The gunboat Herron has gone east.

THE COURTS.

Quarter Sessions Court—Judge Stowe.

John Hanlon was indicted for malicious mischief on oath of Bridget Early. The jury found a verdict of not guilty, but directed defendant to pay the costs.

Bridget Early was tried on a charge of assault and battery preferred by Mrs. Boyle. A verdict of not guilty was rendered, and the costs divided between the parties.

Jacob Fox was tried on an indictment, charging him with assault and battery. Not guilty, defendant to pay the costs.

Isaac Vichenstein was placed on trial on a charge of committing an assault and battery upon his wife. A charge of abandonment was also tried at the same time. Not guilty, defendant to pay the costs.

Henry Fox, tried for assault and battery. A verdict of guilty was rendered, and defendant sentenced to pay a fine of six and a quarter cents and the costs of the prosecution.

Jacob F. Roup was tried on a charge of abandonment preferred by his wife, Mary Roup. He was ordered to pay four dollars a week to the prosecutrix, and to give security in the sum of $300 that he would fulfil the obligation.

Common Pleas—Judge Mellon.

In the case of Patrick Pendergrist and wife vs. William Dillon, for slander, a verdict was found for plaintiffs in the sum of twenty-five dollars.

William McHaffey vs. Adam Wool. This was an action to recover arrears of rent under lease. The jury found for the defendant.

Henry Bier vs. Richard Danver. This was an action to recover damages occasioned by the neglect of defendant in leaving building material on the plank road in Ross township. Plaintiff was driving along the road after night in November last when his horse came in contact with the materials and was severely injured. On trial.

Literary Contest Between the Irving and Philomathean Literary Societies.

The fourth annual contest between the Irving and Philomathean Literary Societies of the Western University was held last evening in the University Hall, at the corner of Ross and Diamond streets. At an early hour in the evening the Hall was filled with an intelligent and appreciative audience, and the Iron City Band, which had been engaged for the occasion, discoursed sweet music while the audience were impatiently awaiting the time to come when the exercises should commence.

At eight o'clock the audience was called to order by the President of the Philomathean Society, James A. Watt, who conducted the exercises, which consisted of declamations, essays, orations and debate. The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. H. B. Endsworth, followed with music by the band.

The contestants on Declamation were Willie Thaw of the Irving and George H. Wood of the Philomathean. The President announced that in consequence of sickness Mr. Thaw was not present, and that portion of the exercises would have to be omitted.

Mr. Geo. H. Woods, his competitor, was then introduced, and entertained the audience with "Maclaine's Child," a most excellent selection, which he rendered in a manner highly creditable to himself, and his instructors. He was warmly applauded and greeted with a shower of boquets at the conclusion. The band then played a pleasing air, at the close of which Mr. Watt announced that next in order would be the ESSAYS.

Thomas Lea Nixon, of the Philomathean Society was introduced and read an excellent essay on "What we Want." which was well written and evinced great care and study in its preparation, but it was not read in as good style as it should have been. He was highly applauded, not only by his school mates but by the entire audience, and many of the ladies in token of their appreciation of his effort by throwing innumerable boquets of beautiful flowers upon the stage.

John S. McKee, of the Irving Society, followed with an essay on "Hope," a most excellent production of its character, and read admirably. He too was applauded by the audience, and greeted with a shower of flowery offerings.

ORATION.

J. L. Bigham, of the Irving Society, was next introduced and delivered an original oration, subject, "Selfishness," which gave evidence of deep research and metaphysical inquiry. It was well delivered, and highly applauded by the audience.

Joseph H. Hamilton, of the Philomathean, Mr. Bigham's competitor, was absent on account of sickness, and consequently his part was omitted.

Next in order came the debate. Question, "Should the State furnish a free Collegiate Education to all?"

Mr. Albert F. Seibert, of the Philomathean, had the affirmative, and opened the debate with a powerful and well prepared argument.

Mr. H. Fullerton Hughes, of the Irving, followed in the negative, and made a much stronger argument than many older persons would have done on that side of the question.

This concluded the contest and it only remained for the judges to make their decision. Hon. J. P. Sterrett and Rev. E. P. Noble, Third Presbyterian Church, had been selected as judges, and at the conclusion of the debate retired to one of the society rooms, and in a few minutes returned, when the decision was announced by Mr. Noble as follows:

Essay—Thomas Lee Nixon, Philomathean.

Debate—H. Fullerton Hughes, Irving.

The exercises were then closed with benediction by Rev Mr. Noble, after which the assemblage dispersed, apparently well pleased with the evenings' entertainment.

The examination at the University commences on Monday and will continue until Friday.

The commencement exercises take place Friday evening.

MORTGAGES.

Same day nine mortgages were filed.

Row at Sewickley—Cutting Affray.

Thursday evening, a difficulty occurred at Sewickley between Michael Welsh and Stephen Newman, during which the latter drew a knife and cut Welsh, inflicting a severe wound across the breast and upper part of the abdomen. It appears that they were in a saloon drinking beer together at the time. Information was made before Justice Star, of Sewickly, charging Newman with felonious assault and battery, upon which he was arrested and committed to await the result of Welsh's injuries, which are said to be of a serious character. After Newman had been arrested, a number of his friends collected together and mobbed the saloon where the difficulty occurred. They broke open the door, and then knocked in the heads of the ale, beer and cider barrels which were found in the place. No arrests have been made.

City Mortality.

Dr. A. G. McCandless, Physician to the Board of Health, reports the following interments in the city of Pittsburgh, from June 7th, to June 14th, 1868:

Diseases—Consumption, 4; Apoplexy, 1; Intermittent Fever, 1; Pneumonia, 1; Old Age, 1; Perdonitis, 1; Ossification of Aorta, 1; Disease of Heart, 1; Convulsions, 2; Cerebro Spinal Hueningitis, 1; Disease of Bowels, 1; Sabes Muesenterica, 1; Cancer, 1; Whooping Cough, 1.

Of the above there were under one year 6; from one to two, 1; from twenty to thirty, 3; from thirty to forty, 2; from forty to fifty, 1; from fifty to sixty, 1; from sixty to seventy, 1; from seventy to eighty, 1.

Males, 10; females, 9; white, 19; colored, 0; total, 19.

Disorderly Conduct.—Yesterday evening Mayor Drum had before him Joseph Lockenbill, charged on oath of Anthony Wirmer with disorderly conduct. The prosecutor states that on Wednesday evening last his wife was passing defendant's house when she made a remark to her child walking at her side, which he mistook for a remark made to one of his children playing on the sidewalk, whereupon he became very much excited and used very abusive language toward the lady. After a hearing of the case Lockenbill was fined five dollars and discharged.

The New Substitute for Silver.

Minargent, recently invented in Paris, and which may be compared to silver, possesses, according to the London Mining Journal, nine tenths of its whiteness, malleability, ductility, tenacity, sonorousness and density, while it has a superior metalic lustre, wears better, is less liable to be acted on by the emanations of sulphuretted hydrogen, and is less fusible than silver. Minargent may be used for all purposes to which silver or other white metals or alloys are applicable. It is composed of one thousand parts of pure copper, seven hundred parts of pure nickel, fifty parts of pure tungsten, ten parts of pure aluminium. The inventors do not, however, limit themselves to the exact proportion given. The chief features of the minargent consist in the introduction in the alloy of pure tungsten and pure aluminium, and also the considerable proportion of nickel which they have succeeded in alloying with the aluminium. The metal is formed into ingots, and moulded in sand, in the ordinary way.

THE PLATFORM AS IT SHOULD BE.—Mr Vallandigham lays it down as inevitable that "any nomination or platform at New York which tacitly or openly concedes that the Democratic party during the war made itself odious by complicity or sympathy with 'treason,' and therefore must be openly killed off or quietly suppressed, or which is tacitly or expressly committed to the proscription of the men in the North and West who refused active support to the war," would be followed by a convention of bolters who would proclaim the ancient and rugged principles of Democracy. Absolute equality and toleration, without regard to the war, are demanded for all men, —Copperheads, Democrats, War Democrats and Republicans—who act with the Democratic party in the common struggle against radicalism.

PROFESSOR MAHON, of the United States Military Academy, West Posnt, speaks as follows of Grant, the cadet:

Professor Coppee describes Grant as a "middle-man," a phrase new to me. He was what we termed a first section man in all his scientific studies; that is, one who accomplishes the full course. He always showed himself a clear thinker and a steady worker. He belonged to the class of compactly strong men who went to their task at once, and kept at it until finished, never being seen, like the slack-twisted class, yawning, lolling on their elbows over their work, and looking as if just ready to sink down from mental inanity.

—By the explosion of a steam fire engine, at New York, on Thursday evening, five young men, all under twenty-five years of age, were killed. One of these was blown from the side-walk into the door of the Bowery theatre, some twenty feet. The concussion also nearly overturned a passing horse-car, which was crowded with people. The wounded number nearly forty, but many are hurt only slightly. One account says the engineer in charge was not a competent person, being a blacksmith. Edward Roche, one of the firemen wounded, states that he was about fixing the safety valve, the spring of which was broken, when the explosion occurred, the boiler fortunately exploding downward.

YVON BRUGGEMANS.

A Legend of Antwerp.

[TRANSLATED FROM THE FRENCH FOR THE BOSTON COMMERCIAL BULLETIN.]

The 22d day of October, 1520, was a day of "fêtes" and rejoicing in each of the Flemish cities, for on that day a Fleming, Charles V. was crowned at Aix-la-Chapelle. The rich and powerful. city of Antwerp, whose merchants were opulent as princes, displayed all its luxury and splendor to honor its new Cæsar. The day commenced by prayer in all the churches, and finished by national games of all descriptions upon the public squares, and processions of artisans, preceded by the banners of their several professions.

There were, nevertheless, in the city many sad hearts, as upon all such occasions there are many who cannot participate. At the window of one of the largest but poorest lodging-houses of the Kamerstraet, designated by the sign of a large red lion, stood a young man whose desponding and sorrowful air contrasted strongly with the joyful bands which passed under his window. Upon the bed reclined a woman whose pale and wan face wore the marks of serious physical and mental suffering.

Suddenly a tumultuous noise of steps and cries arose from the street. It was a procession. The corporations of tanners and joiners were passing. Now came the painters with the image of St. Luc; and now the blacksmiths and lockmakers, carrying the banner of St. Eloi. Poor Yvon looked sorrowfully upon his ancient companions, happy in their strength and health, when suddenly he drew back from the window, as if he would shut out a fatal vision, and rapidly closed it.

"What is it?" exclaimed his mother, alarmed at his sudden pallor.

"Marie has just passed with her father and master Verachter, the rich jeweller of Zierickstraet."

He had nearly served his apprenticeship at the forge with his father when the fatal epidemic broke out to which his father and brothers fell victims, and himself and mother barely survived. But the blacksmiths of the city refused to accord him the right to continue his father's business, as he had not fully worked the required time. This same morning he had heard a neighbor, who came to visit his mother, say that the hand of Marie—which had been the object of all his efforts and thoughts—had been promised by her father to the rich jeweler of Zerickstraet. He had not believed it, but the sight he saw from the window confirmed all his fears, and he remained in deep reverie for a long time. He was started from his reverie by the sounds of a violent tempest which had suddenly broken upon the city. The merciless blast from the North Sea swept over it, spreading destruction in its course. Everywhere was heard the falling of tiles, crashing of glass from the broken windows, the uprooting of trees, &c., and the distant noise from the river whose swollen waters were overflowing its banks. During all this long October night the storm raged with fury; towards morning it subsided, and when day broke it had passed, leaving all the country inundated.

Those who passed first in the vicinity of the Cathedral saw with regret that the great cross which surmounted the spire had been struck by the lightning, and was so bent as to threaten every instant to fall. This cross had cost so much care and work to place it so high! The news spread rapidly, and soon the "Grand Place" before the Cathedral was crowded.

All the citizens viewed this sight with consternation, and asked each other anxiously who would be the individual bold enough to attempt the perilous enterprise of restoring the cross. The sound of a trumpet was heard, and two heralds on horseback appeared on the "Place." Silence being established, one of them read with a slow and loud voice the following proclamation: "To the good citizens of Antwerp—We, the Bourgmestre and Alderman of the city, make known that we have resolved to give a recompense of five hundred golden crows to the person who wil re-establish in its ancient position the iron cross of the Cathedral tower. Five hundred golden crowns! Citizens! whoever desires to obtain this munificent reward, will present himself immediately before the council now assembled at the Hotel de Ville."

There was a moment of silence—each one waited to see who would accept, but no one advanced. The heralds were about to retire, to read elsewhere their proclamation, when the crowd suddenly opened and gave passage to a young man who precipitated himself resolutely towards the Hotel de Ville. Every eye was turned towards him with curiosity. He was of extreme beauty, although emaciated, but from his eyes shone forth manly resolution and courage. The crowd anxiously waited the result. A few moments only had passed when the heralds reappeared to read a second proclamation: "To the good citizens of Antwerp—We, the Bourgmestre and Aldermen make known that Yvon Bruggemans, blacksmith and free citizen, has engaged before us, this 23d day of October, 1520, to re-establish our iron cross in its position upon the tower of the cathedral, with the aid of God, to-morrow."

After a tender farewell to his mother, Yvon on the appointed day arrived at the "Grand Place," where an immense crowd was assembled. All eyes were turned upon him with an expression of pity and regret, and voices murmured in his ear words of encouragement, sympathy and hope. But Yvon, avoiding as much as possible every species of emotion, advanced without answering, traversed the crowd and entered the cathedral. He approached the altar, which was decorated as if for a fête, and kneeling, recited with fervor this prayer: "Lord of Heaven, I risk my life not to gain a miserable sum of money, but to save my mother; preserve me, then, for the love of her; or, if it must be that I die, permit me to accomplish the work I have undertaken. Father all powerful, I place my soul in Thy hands." He then rose and proceeded with a firm step towards the door of the spiral steps which lead to the summit of the tower. As he ascended, he saw through the loopholes the crowd increasing, until all the neighboring roofs, windows, and balconies were filled—everywhere a sea ot heads. He arrived at last at the end of the steps.

Before him rose this long perpendicular spire, the summit of which he must reach without any other means of ascension than the crevices between the stones. He attached to a strong rope the brazier and tools he had brought to work with, fastened this firmly around his waist, and after crossing himself devoutly, commenced his perilous ascension. The crowd watched him as he slowly mounted. Not a sound was heard until he arrived at the summit, and stood immobile at the foot of the cross Then burst forth a universal cry of admiration. He lighted his brazier, and actively commenced his work, attaching firmly to the foot of the cross one end of the rope, of which the other encircled his body. The multitude saw the great cross rise slowly and by degrees, under the repeated blows of the hammer, and with every stroke his strength appeared to increase. Fifteen minutes had hardly passed when cries of enthusiasm saluted the cross completely restored.

His first thought was an aspiration of gratitude to heaven, the second was for his mother. Then he thought, with an emotion of indescribable joy, of Marie, who would be his, for her father certainly could not refuse, when he would have the five hundred golden crowns, obtained in such an heroic manner. His happiness was at its height, but fearing that his emotions might prove fatal, he crossed himself and prepared to descend, but, before doing so, he threw a last glance over the crowd. He saw them separate to give passage to a wedding "cortege," which advanced towards the Cathedral. Attracted, in spite of himself, he regarded attentively all the members. He noticed a young girl dressed in white, as a bride, leaning on the arm of an old man. He supported himself at the foot of the cross, and leaned as far as possible, to assure himself of the reality of his fears, his eyes distended, face livid, and his whole body trembling with emotion. They glanced upwards to see the young workman who had raised the cross. Yvon gave a cry of agony, for this bride was Marie, and at her side the old jeweler, Verachter of Zierickstraet. The shock was too violent for his spirit, exhausted by so many struggles. He fainted, his hands dropped the support which held him, remained an instant immovable, then fell. But the rope which was around him remained fixed to the foot of the cross, and he was for some minutes suspended in space. The crowd, who had seen his fall with terror, believed him saved. But the rope had touched the lighted brazier, and soon the body of the unfortunate Yvon fell, a disfigured and bleeding mass, in the midst of this brilliant wedding "cortege," at the feet of the bride.

The next day a deputation of the magistrates of the city went to carry to his mother the five hundred golden crowns, the price of the blood of her son. But the chamber was empty. A coffin was placed in the middle of the room. Death had spared the poor mother this great affliction. Yvon was buried on the spot where he fell, and the blue stone, with the brass encrusted in the marble, near the grand entrance of the cathedral, alone indicates the place where lies the body of the young blacksmith.

Swimming.

We all know that the breast swimming is the style commonly adopted all over the world. Beginners commence on the breast, and in nine instances out of ten, they continue to move through the water on their breast all through their lives. It is in the water what walking is on land. To the beginner it has the advantage of being the easiest to learn, and to the adept it has the attraction of having "last" about it. Long distances are mostly performed in this style, as being more steady, and consequently less fatiguing; so that here the breast frequently conquers its more dashing rival, the side. Also, when swimming for pleasure, rather than for glory, we instinctively take to the breast. The chief rules are:

1. Spread your hands (fingers closed) widely, so as to describe as large a circle as you possibly can. If you watch good breast swimmers, you will at first be surprised to observe what a broad sweep they thus make.

2. The same rule holds good for the feet; you cannot describe too large a circle; therefore, send out your legs to their utmost length and breadth.

3. After you have described this circle, in order to complete the stroke, bring the heels together sharply and vigorously. Remember, it is this jerk and quick meeting of the heels which sends you forward.

It is in this particular that Gurr especially excels, so that he can propel himself five or six feet each stroke. A long stroke could not be made in any other way. The secret of the matter is this, that, after the sharp contact of the heels, your body instantly floats along, or rather cuts through the water those five feet, without any o'her effort on your part. The stroke made with hands or arms really is of small service, except to maintain your balance on the water.

The Last of Things.

It is with some melancholy interest, musing on the instability of human things, that the philosophic mind surveys the last specimen of almost anything. The last tinderbox, and the last hackney coach, for instance, may be looked at with a certain fond partiality of regret. That they are the last of their sort shows, to be sure, that they have outlived coarse and barbaric expedients, and the things themselves are neither beautiful nor any longer useful. But they are the last, and we drop a sympathizing sort of sigh as we get rid of the worn out old bores. We might be sorry, after a fashion, to see the very last cockroach. The dodo was an ungainly fowl, and was certainly not an ornament in the animal world; yet who but would have sighed had he witnessed his final extinction?—Saturday Review.

MR. BURLINGAME'S services, in introducing the institutions of civilization in China, are summed up by the Spirit of Missions, as follows: "Through his influence an American geologist was employed, who has demonstrated the great extent of their coal mines. Wheaton's Elements of International Law were translated into Chinese by Dr. Martin, an American missionary, and adopted as a national text book by his advice. The first grant for a submarine telegraph, connecting the treaty ports from Canton to Tientsing, was made to him, by which the trade of China was increased from $82,000,000 to $300,000,000. He warmly favored the commission which two years ago was despatched to Europe, and the establishment of a University for the cultivation of the sciences of the West, and has been an ardent supporter of the great cause of missions, which has done so much for civilization and for commerce, as well as for Christianity."

RECENTLY published return of the school statistics of Ohio show that during the past ten years the number of teachers has increased from 18,873 to 21,568; the amount of their salaries from $1,779,973 to $3,175,227, and the total expenditure for educational purposes from $2,299,917 to $4,763,464. But it is a curious fact that the ratio of attendance to the number of children of "school-age" shows a small decline, instead of the increase which might have been expected.

SAWDUST AS MANURE.—Sawdust, unless it be from resinous wood, will speedily decay if placed in the soil, and make humus, or mold, for plants. But the best method we know of by which to convert it into manure is to litter stock with it, for which purpose it is very well adapted. If you have plenty, cover over the stock yards a foot deep; let sheep and cattle lie on it and eat from racks placed on it. It will absorb all the liquid and become very rich.

THE Cleveland Leader reviews the ground by district for the coming Congressional campaign in Ohio, and puts down the First, Second, Fourth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Tenth, Fourteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth and Nineteenth, twelve districts, as pretty certainly Republican; the Fifth, Ninth, Twelfth and Thirteenth, four, as probably Democratic; and the Third, Eleventh and Fifteenth as close and doubtful.

Financial Matters in New York.

Gold Closed at 140¼.

NEW YORK, June 19, 1868.

MONEY AND GOLD.

Money in large supply, and easy at 3@5 per cent. on call. Sterling steady at 110@110⅛ for prime bills. Gold irregular, opening at 140⅜, advancing to 140¾, and closing at 140¼. Loans were made at 1 per cent. for carrying, and 1@2 per cent. and flat for borrowing.

VERDICT AGAINST KANSAS PACIFIC RAILROAD.

A verdict for about four and a half million of dollars against the Kansas Pacific Railroad has been obtained in the Supreme Court, by the former construction contractors, Ross, Steele and Trowbridge. This road has no connection with the Union Pacific, which to-day advanced the price of its bonds to 102. Nearly $17,000,000 of them are already sold. The Company owes no debt, and has several millions in its treasury.

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 19.—Although the market is lacking in activity, it would seem as though better feeling prevailed, or at least that prices had reached low water mark under the reaction in cotton and gold, yet, however, there is no elasticity in prices, but the indications are that they will be higher next month when the fall trade opens. For light styles of American prints prices are lower, being reduced to 11½c, the same as Lancaster, but for other classes of goods there is no particular change to observe.

St. Louis Market.

RIVER NEWS.

The river is again receding at this point, with but three feet in the channel by the Monongahela marks. Weather was oppressively hot yesteday the thermometer being 93 degrees above zero in the shade in the afternoon. It seems a little strange that while there has been such terrific rain storms in the west within the past few days, we have had little or none here.

The Robert Moore from Portsmouth is the only arrival and departure we have to report.

The St. Charles, as before noted, was to have left Wheeling at noon yesterday for Cincinnati. Capt. Dravo, it is said, will place a low water boat in the trade in place of the St. Charles.

The Glasgow was due here from Parkersburg last night, and she is announced to leave again to-day at noon.

The Leonidas and Maggie Hays, enroute from St Louis to Pittsburgh, and the Wild Duck, enroute from Pittsburgh to St. Louis, were at Evansville on Wednesday night.

The loss of the Ocean Wave was occasioned by mattresses in the after part of the cabin taking fire from sparks from the smoke stack. The engineer smelled smoke, and, running up stairs, found the rear of the cabin on fire, beyond saving, and, giving the alarm, the pilot run the vessel ashore where she burned to the water's edge. The crew lost all their clothing, and with the officers, had barely time escape with their lives, so rapidly did the flames consume the combustible material of which all boats are made.

The Vicksburg Times says; "The Great Republic was as deep as she could swim with freight, but had no passengers. It is said that this will be her last trip in the Compromise line.

The St. Louis delegates to the National Board of Trade at Philadelphia have returned home, and report great interest felt in New York in the through grain movement in New Orleans. Responsible parties there offered to guarantee the half of the necessary money in that city to start a line of propellers that would carry grain in bulk from New Orleans to New York at 5 cents per bushel, if the other half would be subscribed in St. Louis, Cincinnati, Louisville and Nashville.

The following is from the Memphis Bulletin:

A well known Memphian, who is accustomed to take a drop or two now and then, says that a singular inconsistency is to be found in the fact that the barkeepers on some of the Mississippi river steamboats exact only 15 cents per horn for drinks when above Cairo, although when below Cairo 25 cents is the price demanded. In this the question naturally arises, do the Southern men drink larger drams than Northern men, or does it cost more to sell whisky below Cairo than above?

We clip the following from the St. Louis Republican, Wednesday; Business good. Freights in moderate abundance for all points. Rates to New Orleans steady at 20c per bbl for flour, other articles in proportion, or at any other rate the Barge Company may determine upon. The last mentioned appear, however, to have but little desire to carry freight at the rate they have established, as we could hear of no engagements being made, and a personal visit to the barge landing showed a blissful state of idleness.

The action of the steamboatmen in putting their figures at the same as the barges, has resulted as foretold by the advocates of the movement, in a decided improvement in business for the boats, as "at the same rate" the steamboats will always get the preference, and so long as they continue to receive good return trips and the stage of the river allows them to go out fully loaded, they can afford to carry at the ruinously low rate established by the tow company, a rate which was only set through spite and in the hope that the boatmen would be driven back to again allow of a discrimination in rates.

The Dubuque Herald, of Sunday, says: The result of the late conference in Chicago between the two steamboat lines has not been made public, even if anything was done toward a reconciliation; agents are unadvised of any changes in the present rates, which are 10c per cwt. on sacked grain, and 20c per bbl for flour.

A St. Louis dispatch, under date of Wednesday says: River steadily falling here. It rose 3 feet at Dubuque on Saturday. Missouri stationary at Omaha and St. Joseph. The Peninah and the Mountaineer passed on Saturday.

The steamer Lizzie Gill leaves to-day for New Orleans, with 1,600 tuns. The Abeona and America leaves for the Ohio.

The Government contract for the transportation of some 300 tuns freight to the Upper Missouri, was awarded to Captain Hazlett, for the steamers Ida Stockdale and Huntsville, and not the Lilly, at the rate to Fort Sully of $1,80 per 100, and to Rice and Stevenson $1,90.

The towboat Atlantic and three barges were sold for $55,000, to Trunstall & Holmes, and Jas. Shaler. She will be engaged independently in the New Orleans trade.

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.

J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,
Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desised. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 140¼.

THE Arkansas bill will become a law today, with or without the President's veto. The ten days for the Omnibus bill will expire next Wednesday.

THE new Tax bill is likely to be reported on Monday in the House. It will be confined to whisky and tobacco, the ratio of excise on the former being left blank, to be fixed by the House, whose decision will range between fifty cents and one dollar per gallon. On tobacco the rates are to be considerably reduced, fine-cut chewing being put at twenty-five instead of fifty cents, and coarse smoking at twelve instead of twenty-five cents per pound. It is believed that under the present administration, these figures will yield more revenue than the highest rates. When reported to the House, the new bill will be the special order until disposed of.

MR. CHILL HAZZARD, the able and accomplished editor of the Monongahela Republican, recently took occasion to express his views on the Impeachment verdict, in such a manner as to leave no doubt that he thought the people had been outraged and their trust betrayed by seven recreant Senators who voted for acquittal. Giving expression to this sentiment, Mr. H. has just been removed from the office of Postmaster of Monongahela City, a position which he has long and satisfactorily filled. He has consistently held principle to be above office, and cannot but feel proud that the Government authorities, in their act of removal, recognize in him a devoted and unflinching Union Republican, who cares more for the truth than the paltry office held at their option.

THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS in Birmingham have called a meeting at the Town Hall for this evening, for the purpose of forming a GRANT and COLFAX Club for the campaign. Let us urge on our Republican readers in that borough, each and all of them, to attend the meeting. A club promptly organized with the right kind of working men for officers, and including the great body of the sincere and intelligent Republicans of the borough, would prove of invaluable service in ensuring a full vote at the autumn election. Concert of action is an indispensible preliminary to the greatest success in all undertakings, and this is especially true of political operations. We trust, therefore, that the Birmingham Republicans will all be on hand this evening, to take part in suitable arrangements for an interesting and effective canvass.

THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES records an emphatic condemnation of the gigantic fraud by which a Commission, appointed by the President, acting in collusion with a citizen of Chicago, extorted from the Osage Indians, by menaces and deception, the sale of their lands. These lands, fertile and well watered, comprise eight millions of acres—an area quite equal to that of the whole State of Massachusetts—and the "treaty" which proposes to dispose of them, transfers the title in fee simple to a Chicago speculator for about nineteen cents per acre, in long deferred payments. The tract is worth at least $6,000,000 in cash, but he would get it at about $1,400,000 on long time. He was the lowest instead of the highest bidder, and it is understood that he is the representative of a combination including several railway companies and private operators. The timely and vigorous protest of the House, it is hoped, has defeated forever the iniquitous arrangement.

PUBLIC EXECUTIONS have been abolished in Great Britain, an Act of Parliament to that end having just gone into effect. It is stated that the new law provides "that judgment of death, to be executed on any prisoner on any indictment or inquisition for murder, shall be carried into effect within the walls of the prison in which the offender is confined at the time of execution. The Sheriff is to be present with the officials. The surgeon of the jail is to certify the death. A coroner's inquest is to be held; the certificate and declaration are to be exhibited outside the principal entrance of the prison for at least twenty-four hours." The flagrant public scandals which, from time immemorial, have marked English executions, making the chronicles of Newgate, as of all other scaffolds in the Empire, records of popular superstitions, brutalities and tumults beyond anything ever seen in our own land, are now to be ended forever. These demoralizing exhibitions of unhung depravity are to be re-placed by the solemnity which properly marks the infliction of the last penalty of human law.

FREE TRADE.

That certain philosophers have advocated actual Free Trade between all nations, as the best, if not the only rational basis of commercial intercourse, is well known. But even the most acute and profound of these thinkers are so completely subjected to the despotism of theory as to leave out of consideration several important factors of the problem they essay to solve. Upon such portions of the argument as they see proper to admit as relevant they build conclusions which have a peculiar charm, such as naturally results from apparent liberality and unselfishness; but when greater scope is given to the argument; when all the facts bearing upon the matter are generalized; and the true theory of the inter-dependence of peoples is deduced and presented, Free Trade appears to be, what it really is, a metaphysical deception.

Hence, none of the great nations of Europe have embraced the doctrine of Free Trade and reduced it to practice. Those of them which are most advanced in the development of the arts essential to the highest civilization; which have the largest accumulations of capital, and consequently, the lowest rates of interest for the use of money; which have most successfully diversified and aggregated machinery; which have the densest population, so as to produce an overstocked labor market; which have pressed the use of protection in many special departments of industry until they have domesticated branches of manufactures wholly dependent for material upon distant regions; and which have made the most out of all natural advantages of soil, climate and condition; are theoretically clamorous for Free Trade. That is to say, they are exceedingly solicitous no other nations should rise to the industrial eminence they have attained. Being at the top and well be able to defy competition in many lines of production, they are anxious to bring Protection, as a means of national growth, into discredit. But they are careful nevertheless, not to abolish their own custom-houses, but to maintain as comprehensive a system of discriminations as their situation actually calls for. If they have such advantages for producing any article as makes competition with them actually impossible, they are ready to reduce or abolish duties thereon; just as they are ready to admit the free import of breadstuffs in case of famine, or whenever, by force of other considerations, the protection of agriculture has ceased to be imperative. On all other articles, their tariffs are as stringent as at any former period.

Among these nations, at the present time, stand conspicuous England and France. Boasting of liberality, the system they actually enforce against each other and against all other nations, is as essentially protective as any system ever existing either in those nations or elsewhere. The pretense of Free Trade they make, is a transparent sham.

In like manner, there are in the United States thinkers who espouse Free Trade as in accordance both with the inculcations of philosophy and the results of experience. Their philosophy is unsound and deceptive, and if they have experience in the line of their professions, they have none to show—only the most barbarous nations using Free Trade, and if their barbarism did not result therefrom, they can never be lifted out of it until they establish the protective policy.

So, a political party exists in this country, which nominally adheres to Free Trade; but has never yet essayed to abrogate the custom-house system. It uses the word Free Trade with wonderful dexterity in order to deceive people who do not discriminate closely, but carefully avoids all efforts to carry the theory that word expresses into effect. So long as it held possession of the government it maintained impost duties and exercised as wide a range of discriminations, protecting fully every interest it had a mind to, and they were many, and slighting such interests as it had little or nothing to hope from, or had grudges against.

This species of jugglery is not without certain forms of profit. It yields some of the advantages of avowed and consistent espousal of Protection, and, at the same time, enables those who resort to it to reap many of the fruits of genuine Free Trade. To be more explicit—this sort of game enables the Democrats to retain many who would not stay with them but for Practical Protection, and to secure the co-operation of most of those who theoretically adhere to Free Trade. Admitting the continuance of a tariff of impost duties for revenue purposes to be consistent with the profession of Free Trade, Protection, to almost any conceivable extent, and for as many interests as it may be thought proper to include and favor, becomes perfectly easy. This is precisely the manner in which the Democrats dealt with this subject so long as they had possession of the government. Arguing stoutly for Free Trade, they found no difficulty in conceding to the Louisiana sugar planters as high a degree of Protection as they demanded; and so on all the way round, wherever this course became necessary in order to detach certain sections or callings from the old Whig party, or afterwards from the Republican.

Nor would a tariff without discriminations—that is to say, consisting of a horizontal or uniform line of impost duties—render this species of duplicity less difficult. All that would be needful under such a system to secure Protection to the fullest degree desired by individuals engaged in any branch of production, would be to raise the line of duties from ten to fifteen, or from fifteen to twenty per centum, and so on, until the necessary point should be reached. Of course, the effect upon the fostered interests would be exactly the same as that produced by discriminating duties, while upon tea, coffee, silk and all other articles not grown or fabricated within our borders, the effect would be to enhance prices permanently by the amount of the duties. In the present condition of the National Taeasury, this would be equivalent in effect to the imposition of excise or internal duties on spirits and tobacco; and would work no inconvenience to any interests.

Standing by the doctrine and practice of Protection, not equivocally or under false pretenses, what we ask of those who profess to advocate Free Trade, is that they they discard dissimulation, and march squarely toward that which Free Trade necessarily implies. Let them demand frankly the abrogation of all customs and duties, with the whole train of offices and placemen essential to that system of revenue, and the addition to the internal levies of sums sufficient to meet the deficiency. That would be Free Trade, and nothing short of it is. Every measure this side of that which proposes to be Free Trade, is a fraud and a snare.

As Protectionists we insist that in all adjustments of the revenue laws—whether external or internal—Congress shall adopt unhesitatingly such discriminations as will foster domestic industry, diversify employments as widely as possible, and thus enrich the nation. We hold this duty to be subordinate only to the repelling of foreign invasion and the securing of domestic tranquility. For no other ends ought this object to be postponed. Hence, the senior editor decidedly dissents from an article which recently appeared in these columns, in his absence from his post, justifying the postponement of a revision of the revenue laws until the next session. The proper Committees have had abundant time to settle all necessary details; and in this particular, their labor has been facilitated by the delay of general business occasioned by the Impeachment proceedings.

In expressing ourselves thus strongly on this point, we do not want to be understood as being ready to concede any grade of Protection persons engaged in any particular pursuit may suggest or demand. Far enough from it. Men in each calling ought to be heard, and their sentiments impartially weighed; but it belongs inherently and absolutely to Congress to determine, and upon a large view of matters, what the amount of the impost shall be in each case. In all excise levies the producers of any article wish to have the duty fixed as low as possible; and not unfrequently through a false conception of what their welfare actually requires. In like manner, men engaged in any branch of manufactures seek to crowd the impost duties upon the highest possible point, often to their own detriment. Upon Congress devolves the duty of looking upon both sides, of weighing all the considerations, and striking the balance in accordance with its matured judgment.

The proper action of Congress in this regard is impeded by reason of the fact that so many of its members are lawyers and so few men familiar with practical affairs. Lawyers are needed in both Houses, and there is no lack in that direction. The deficiency consists in having so few members who are familiar with the details of commerce, manufactures, finance, and other business callings.

THE GREENBACK DEMOCRACY.

The Chase Democracy submit to the public the latest authorized statement of their platform as follows:

> Universal suffrage is a recognized Democratic principle, the application of which is to be left, under the Constitution of the United States, to the States themselves. Universal amnesty and complete removal of all disabilities, on account of participation in the late rebellion, are not only a wise, just reason of public policy but essentially necessary to a beneficial administration of the government in the States recently involved in civil war with the United States, and to a full, satisfactory re-establishment of the practical relations of those States with the other States of the American Union. No military government over any State in the Union in time of peace is compatible with the principles of civil liberty established by the Constitution, nor can the trial of private citizens by military commissions be tolerated by a people jealous of their freedom and desiring to be free.
> Taxes should be reduced as far as practicable, collected impartially and with strict economy, and so apportioned as to bear on wealth rather than upon labor, and while all national obligations should be honestly and exactly fulfilled, no special privilege should be allowed to any class of individuals or to corporations.

It appears that the platform of this original Abolitionist, which was at first entirely too bitter for the Democratic palate, is now sweetened up to suit the taste. Universal suffrage is toned down to a State rights foundation, and sugared over with a highly attractive amnesty which is to bring all the old rebels, in full feather, to the head of the new National Democracy. Military governments and trials by military commissions are condemned, in terms clear enough to satisfy a party whose disloyal and treasonable affiliations with rebels in arms necessitated the establishment of these commissions for their punishment. The national obligations are asserted to be binding upon the people, but greenback Democrats are expected to be satisfied with a vague declaration against any special privilege. This platform, as now shaved, tongued and grooved, is likely to be much more acceptable to the masses of the party than as it was at first roughly blocked out. Were CHASE to be nominated, you would find the PENDLETON newspapers unanimous in declaring that he stands substantially upon the ground they have advocated, and felicitating their readers upon the selection of a statesman of such financial experience and who so thoroughly comprehends the requirements of the people. They will approvingly quote the following from the New York World of the 18th and will let themselves and their chronically humbugged readers easily and gracefully down, by belittling the matter as really of no consequence whatever. Says the World:

> We cannot regard the financial questions, important as they are, as holding the highest rank. The particular question which is debated with most asperity and excites the most feeling, the question, namely, whether the principal of the five-twenty bonds is payable in gold, has not the magnitude, as respects the amount of money involved, which the popular imagination assigns to it. Whether those bonds are paid in gold or greenbacks makes a difference of less than one year's taxes at the present rate of taxation. It will perhaps aid the reader in estimating the amount of money involved in this controversy, to look at the figures. By the June statement of the Secretary of the Treasury, it appears that the total debt of the United States is $2,643,758,566, of which the part in five-twenty bonds (the only subject of controversy) is $1,494,535,600. At the present premium on gold, the amount that would be saved would be a little over four hundred million dollars, or less than the average of our annual taxes for the last three or four years. Whether that sum is saved or paid will not change the structure of our Government nor have any serious effect on the stability of our institutions. It is merely a question whether the real amount of the public debt is twenty-six hundred millions or twenty-two hundred millions; and however important it may be, it is by no means a question of the first magnitude. It can be made to seem so only by representing it as involving the public faith; but it is not really a question of public faith but of legal interpretation. The greenback men have no more desire to violate the public faith than the gold men. They alike wish to have the debt paid according to the true meaning of the law. They differ only on a point of interpretation, and the amount involved is altogether less than the public vaguely supposes it.

It must be remembered that our Democratic editors are very practical philosophers in the main, and that they invariably reconcile themselves to what can't be helped. If they can't get the Pendletonian ideas into the Democratic ark, they will contrive to float alongside for a while and swear that it isn't much of a shower after all. For this, the World's article above quoted affords them the cue.

FACTS FOR THE DEMOCRACY.

The New York World re-asserts, in the most emphatic and positive manner, its opinion that negro suffrage at the South is a fact which cannot be denied nor lawfully resisted. As such, the World has treated it, and, in connection with the possible nomination of Mr. CHASE upon a platform in which it should constitute a conspicuous feature, has submitted the matter to its Democratic readers. That journal admits that its party have "promptly and vehemently rejected" the idea that negro suffrage is to be considered as a fixed, established institution, but proceeds as follows:

> We believe in and stand by every word we uttered on the subject. If the Convention does not indorse it, time and experience will. Democrats are quite pardonable for the soreness and indignation they feel on this subject. But will indignation at a brutal murder restore the victim to life? Facts are none the less facts because we detest and abhor the means by which they became so. We do not wish to abate the just indignation of the party, but to prevent its anger from clouding the intellect.
> Can negro suffrage be uprooted within the next four years? Most assuredly not, unless the Democratic party carries the Presidential election. This is so evident that we suppose we need not argue it, although positions have been disputed which are as incontestible as this. Will an avowed intention to uproot it assist us to gain over from the Republican party the votes we need to gain in order to elect the President? That depends altogether upon the possibility of our making the change at once and giving the country repose after eight years of conflict and turbulence. It is demonstrable that; instead of making it at once, we cannot make it at all within the four years.
> The Senate, now four fifths Republican, is to be increased by twenty new Republican Senators. It is certain, therefore, that that body will be Republican throughout the whole of the next Presidential term, and that no law can be either repealed or passed except by Republican consent. It is absolutely certain that no relief can come from Congress within the ensuing four years.
> From what source then can it be expected? Not from the Supreme Court, although there is good reason for supposing that that tribunal regards the Reconstruction acts as unconstitutional. These acts will expire by their own limitation before the Supreme Court sits again, and the competency of the resulting State governments is a question of which it has no jurisdiction. It was decided by the Supreme Court, in the Dorr case, that it belongs to Congress to decide upon the validity of a State government; that the decision of Congress is made by the admission of Senators and Representatives; and that the Courts are bound to follow it. It is thus proved, by reasoning which is as conclusive as mathematical demonstration, that no relief can come from the Supreme Court. This conclusion is as distasteful to us as it can be to any objector; but indignation is not logic, and the argument does not admit of refutation.
> Since negro suffrage can be upset during the next Presidential term neither by Congress nor the Supreme Court, by what agency is it to be overturned? Not surely by the negroes, or by the governments in which they are voters. If done at all it will be done by the white citizens of the South acting outside the new State governments. But what shall prevent the new government trying them for treason against the State, as Rhode Island tried and sentenced Dorr? Or who can doubt that they would do it? It is too evident that the negroes can be ousted from the suffrage only by a successful insurrection of the white citizens against the new State governments; and the World has too deep a sense of responsibility and too clear a foresight of consequences, to advise the Convention to recommend this method of redress. The effect of such a recommendation would be to repel Republicans who are on the ground ready to join us, and whose aid we must have if we are to elect a President. If any of our Democratic contemporaries think the party already as large as they wish it, we do not share their sentiments.

Does any sane man, of whatever political party, suppose that the New York Convention will ignore the considerations which the World has put with such plainness and force? Not because any one journal, no matter how influential, may advocate them, but because "facts are none the less facts" and shrewd politicians do not habitually allow anger to cloud the intellect. They will not butt their brains out against a solid wall if they know it, but will accept the facts and make the most of them. They may do this in the mode suggested by the World, that is, in such fashion as to secure, if possible, the Republican votes which they confessedly stand in need of, or they may find some other path consistent with policy and with existing facts. They may take up CHASE, whom the language of the World clearly indicates or they may nominate some other man upon that platform, but nothing can be clearer than the indications that the Convention, under the pressure of reconstruction accomplished, must and will take a long step forward toward the recognition of Human Rights. Whoever the candidate may be, after the Fourth of July we shall hear nothing more of a "white man's government" except as we resurrect the old files of Democratic journals.

THE Democracy in the Second District, at Cincinnati last year, made a successful use of the workingmen, by inducing them to unite in the support of Gen. S. F. CARY, a bolting Republican, and succeeded in electing him. CARY has since very gratefully surrendered himself entirely to the Democratic party, in his Congressional course. Now, when he desires to be a candidate for re-election, the party which seduced him has no further use for him; they think themselves strong enough to carry the district without the workingmen's vote, and could therefore put an original Copperhead on the track. The workingmen complain of being sold, but have only themselves to blame for it, for a very little reflection would have taught them that the Democracy regularly woo them only to betray them, in this or some other way. Workingmen of Allegheny, please take notice.

THE Brownsville Clipper has recently donned a new dress, presenting a chaste and elegant appearance. Its editor and proprietor, SETH T. HURD, Esq., knows how to conduct a newspaper, and has long held front rank among the ablest journalists of the State. The Clipper receives a large share of advertising patronage from Pittsburgh.

THE Bedford Inquirer has recently been enlarged and otherwise improved. It is now one of the handsomest Republican journals published in the State. It is edited with care, good judgment and decided ability, and we are glad to learn is in the full tide of prosperity.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

A correspondent of the American Churchman, writing from Boston, refers especially to the late movement of the Massachusetts Diocese Convention in regard to the Evangelists. This class of men he writes, are to go at large up and down the land, doing a work which it is pretended will be a sort of compromise between the ranting "revivalists" of the sects and, the Jesuits or Paulists of the Catholic Church. This writer seems to be very much disturbed by this progressive step, and thinks its promoters have not stopped to inquire whether it is a legitimate church movement. He thinks the organization is an utterly new thing within the proverbial conservative communion of the Protestant Episcopal Church. Fears are expressed by this movement. A compactly organized Brotherhood, may assume power that will hereafter disturb the Church, and says that it was almost precisely such a movement that split entirely in two the large and conservative Presbyterian body in this land—now know as the Old and New Schools. This view will be new to some. The selection of Evangelists to do a certain kind of missionary work, is only in fact a name given to a class of persons who hove been employed of late by the Episcopal Church in some of the large cities. Its inauguration under the auspices of the Bishop of Massachusetts ensures its success, and the order will extend its field of operation to other Dioceases.

The Thirteenth Annual Convention of the Young Men's Christian Associations of the United States and the British Provinces, will be held at Detroit, Michigan, commencing next Wednesday, the 24th instant. It is a matter of record that since the last annual meeting at Montreal, Canada, the number of such Associations have about doubled, and now not less than four hundred are enrolled. Among the questions to be discussed, indeed most prominently set forth in the call, is the question of Lay Preaching: I. Is it desirable that Christian Associations should undertake it? 2. Under what regulations should it be undertaken? 3. What should be the qualifications of those who engage in the work? 4. How should the services be conducted? The Advance represents that the Congregational General Association of Connecticut, at its annual meeting this month at Clinton, among other matters, discussed, will be "the relations of Young Men's Christian Associations to the Churches and their work." This question is likely to receive attention from all the leading denominations ere long.

The late General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, in its action in regard to the union proposed by the Philadelphia Convention, expresses deep interest in the movement; the importance of union; recommending free interchange of sentiment on points of difference; appointing delegates to meet with delegates from the other bodies, to endeavor to obtain such terms of union as will not relinquish principle, and especially its unqualified assent to the Westminster Confession and Catechisms. It also resolved to send a delegation to the Associate Reformed Synod to open a correspondence with the Synod by deputation. The United Presbyterian says that this resolution was adopted with entire unanimity, and with the expression of the kindest feelings towards the Church South.

The vacancy in the Presidency of Pennsylvania College, under the patronage of the Lutherans, caused by the lamented death of Dr. H. L. Baugher, has been filled by the Rev. Dr. M. Valentine, of the Theological Seminary, at Gettysburg, Pa., who was unanimously chosen for the position.

It is a singular fact that none of the daily papers in England are published on Sunday, and nobody gets news that comes on Sabbath morning, however important it may be, until the next day.

An exchange contains the remarkable fact that Bishop McFarland (Catholic) of Hartford, ordained not long since at Troy New York, twenty-three young men priests, and admitted to deaconship and minor orders nearly one hundred others. The ceremony was very impressive and lasted four hours. This is the largest number of priests ever ordained in the United States in one day.

The Secretary of the Connecticut Valley Conference of Congregational Churches, makes a singular call for ministers, viz: "A few dull ministers—men who may not have the necessary qualifications for great parishes, with great salaries, in the cities, but would be content to be honest, faithfully devoted pastors of country parishes; men who would be content to live out of sight of the Boston State House, and fulfil in some humble way, as far as the times will allow, the old idol of a country minister."

Assurances have been secured by the American Baptist Missionary Union, from the colored Baptists of the South, that they could furnish plenty of men for the African Mission work, if the Union would furnish the funds. Accordingly this Society has determined to re-open the mission, which was discontinued many years since.

The Cumberland Presbyterian General Assembly held its annual session recently at Lincoln, Illinois. One hundred and eighty delegates were present from sixteen States. It is represented that perfect harmony prevailed in its deliberations. From the meagre accounts we have seen, we judge the differences on certain questions during the war have been amicably adjusted, and that harmony again prevails in the supreme council of that body.

The Cincinnati Gazette, in its excellent department of "Religious Intelligence," devotes considerable space to the "free pew system," growing out of a movement recently inaugurated in the First Presbyterian Church of that city. The introduction of the free seat system into such a prominent church is attracting much attention, and the press is commenting upon it quite freely.

The Herald of Peace, an organ of the progressive or rather Evangelical type of Friends, has an editorial on the "Duty of Peace Men," in connection with the Chicago nomination. It presents the views of that body in regard to peace at any price, rather than carnal war, yet, it also declares that the cause of Justice, Liberty and Chrstianity must be sustained. It counsels Friends that there should be no sentimental foolishness mixed up with their convictions of truth, to keep them from the discharge of their duty in the coming contest, between liberty, justice and impartial suffrage on one side, and oppression, injustice and partiality on the other. The article winds up with the counsel that Grant being the nominee, "let him be elected."

The Episcopalian churches in Philadelphia are adopting pretty generally the custom of holding "Children's Church" in the afternoon of the first Sabbath of the month, being communion Sunday. The interest in these meetings is very great and induces a large attendance of the youth of the parishes where the usage prevails.

THE Memphis Avalanche is displeased by the action of the Tennessee Democratic Convention in resolving that secession is a dead theory. The Avalanche says: "As an original secessionist, we are willing to abide by and acquiesce in the judgment pronounced upon the late wager of battle; but in case the American people should grant a new trial in the case, either by ballot or bullets, we do not wish to be estopped by any unnecessary admissions."

CONVALESCENCE.

After a disease has been conquered, there is still the weakness that it leaves behind it to be removed. Convalescence is a tedious affair. If the enfeebled and flaccid muscles, the shattered nerves, the thin and watery blood could speak, they would cry for help. In too many cases such help as is given them is not of the right kind. The fiery stimulants of commerce do harm. They kindle a temporary flame, which is a mockery. Their effect passes, and the last state of him who uses them is worse than the first. Not such is the effect of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. There is no drawback to its toning properties. It has been found THE GREAT MEDICINE OF THE AGE for sustaining and bracing up the enfeebled constitution no matter how much debilitated—as it not only bestows strength, but soothes the nervous system and allays all excitement of the brain. While this excellent preparation possesses such effective properties, it is perfectly safe and is agreeable to the taste. Attempts have been made to rival it. They have failed. Can it be necessary to say why they have failed? Ask the recovered dyspeptics, bilious sufferers, victims of fever and ague and nervous subjects who have experienced its effects what they think of it. Ask them, and be guided by what they say. As a household medicine it is available at all times in cases of indigestion; bilious and other fevers, and all diseases arising from an impure condition of the stomach or liver.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone," on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten it on my lungs. I knew that the peculair mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to the discharge, which I believed was a salutary provision of nature to get rid of some morbid condition of the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, I—— C——.

500 ACRES OF WHITE PINE AND HEMLOCK TIMBER LAND, situated on Black Lick Creek, Buffington township, Indiana county, Pa., 9 miles from Ninevah Station, on the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, and about 60 acres of cleared land, under good fencing. On the premises are erected one Grist Mill, with 2 run of burrs and 2 run of stones, all complete and in good running order. One Saw Mill, in complete order, cutting 3,000 feet per day.

One dwelling house, two stories high, with 12 rooms, 40x42 feet.
One dwelling, 28x40 feet, 8 rooms.
One " 18x26 " 2 "
One " 18x26 " 4 "
One " 18x26 " 2 "
One " 24x26 " 5 "

One Stable, 20x24 feet, 16 feet high; Blacksmith Shop and other outbuildings. This land is underlaid with stone coal and iron ore, and it has plenty of never-failing springs of water, besides the creek running through the entire premises, and will be sold cheap and on easy terms, to a good man with a little money.

10 LOTS ON BEDFORD AVENUE, each lot 20 by 100 feet, on which is erected four two story frame dwelling houses, of 6 rooms and hall each. These lots embrace a full square of ground, fronting 206 feet on Bedford avenue, and bounded on each end by a wide street, with an 18 feet alley in the rear. On the premises is a pump of lasting and excellent water, and the surface of the lots is level and needs neither filling nor grading to prepare them for building purposes, and being in a section of the city where property is increasing very rapidly in value, make them desirable for an investment, especially as the present houses rent for enough to pay a good interest on the sum asked for the whole property. Call soon on the undersigned and secure a cheap, safe and paying investment.

Also, A FARM OF 160 ACRES of good land, situated in East Wheatfield township, Indiana Co., Pa., 90 acres of which is cleared land, in good cultivation, 20 acres being in excellent meadow. The improvements are a two-story frame dwelling house of 4 rooms, a frame bank barn, 36x60 feet, with stabling underneath, and other outbuildings, all in good repair. It is in a good neighborhood, convenient to schools, churches, stores, &c., and will be sold very low for cash or approved securities.

Also, a RIVER BOTTOM FARM of 76 acres, 19 miles from the city, in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the Youghiogheny river, one-half mile from Elrod's Station, on the Connellsville railroad; near churches, schools, stores, &c., in the flourishing villages of Boston and Green Oak. The improvements are a two-story brick house of six rooms, hall and cellar, a good frame bank barn with stabling underneath, and other outbuildings; a well of good standing water at the door, and several standing springs of water on the farm, and an orchard of 700 trees of selected fruits of apples, cherries, pears, peaches, quinces and grapes. This property being located near the line of the railroad, within one hour's ride of the city, makes it very desirable for gardening or a dairy farm; it is also a good and beautiful location for country homes near the city, lying immediately on the river, on the opposite side from the railroad. The West Newton Accommodation and other trains on the railroad afford certain and frequent opportunities of daily communication to and from the city. Will be sold as a whole or in lots of one acre or more, to suit purchasers.

Also, A FARM OF 173 ACRES, situated in St. Clair township, Westmoreland county, Pa., near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Houston Station. The improvements are a two-story frame house, with six rooms and good cellar, a frame bank barn 40 by 60 feet, and other outbuildings. There is on the place a young apple and peach orchard; 120 acres cleared land, divided into fields of convenient size, a large portion of which are well set in clover and timothy; the residue of said tract covered with good timber. It is well watered and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm; and with it will be sold all the personal property on the premises, consisting of horses, cows, stock cattle, hogs and poultry, harness, gears, wagon, plows, farming implements and household and kitchen furniture. Together will be sold very low and on easy terms, to a responsible purchaser.

Also, a desirable and very fertile Tract of Land of 158 ACRES AND 25 PERCHES, in Elizabeth Tp., Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Hempfield railroad, and one and one-half miles from the Connellsville railroad at Suter's Station. On this farm are 40 acres of superior white oak timber, which alone is now worth one-half the price asked for the whole tract. The improvements are a log house, frame barn, good fencing, and an apple orchard of good fruit. It is well watered and underlaid with limestone and flag stone of a superior quality, with stone coal for the use of the farm.

Also, The best FARM in Fairfield township, Westmoreland county, Pa., of 250 ACRES, about six miles south of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad at Bolivar Station. The improvements are two large hewed log dwellings; one of the largest and best frame barns in the township; two apple orchards, in good bearing condition; corn crib, wagon-shed and other outbuildings. The whole farm is under a high state of cultivation; fencing all in first rate order, and the land of the best quality of limestone soil, about 200 acres of which is cleared and the residue of the tract in good timber, such as white oak, rock oak, hickory, walnut and beech. This property will be sold very cheap and on good terms, as the owner wishes to engage in other business. For particulars enquire of

FOR SALE.

TWO HOUSES AND LOT on Carroll street, Allegheny. This property will be sold low, as the party is about leaving the city, and wishes to dispose of the property before removing.

SAW MILL, TWO DWELLING HOUSES, TWO BARNS, with good FARM, and about 800 acres timber land. This property will be sold low. Cash $2,500—balance on time to suit buyer.

FARM OF 120 ACRES, will be sold for twenty dollars per acre. Improvements comfortable frame house and good barn; 50 acres of the land clear.

FARM OF 180 ACRES, near the line of railroad; very well located for raising stock; improvements are good and substantial; 100 acres of the land in meadow and grain.

CITY PROPERTY.—Will sell a good brick house, containing five rooms, at Sixteen Hundred Dollars, and would rent for the amount in six years.

A LARGE LOT OF GROUND, having a river front, and very convenient of access.

TANNERY, convenient to the city, and having a well established custom or local trade connected therewith; a good dwelling and forty acres of land.

Also, for the erection of a NEW BRIDGE over Deer Creek, on the road leading from Harmarville to the Kittanning road, in Indiana township.

Plans and specifications can be seen on application.

By direction of the County Commissioners.

HENRY LAMBERT,
je13:r62 Controller.

☞ OFFICE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD COMPANY,
PHILADELPHIA, May 13, 1868.

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS.

In pursuance of resolutions adopted by the Board of Directors at a Stated Meeting held this day, notice is hereby given to the Stockholders of this Company, that they will have the privilege of subscribing, either directly or by substitution under such rules as may be prescribed therefor, for Twenty-five Per Cent. of additional Stock at Par, in proportion to the respective interests as they stand registered on the Books of the Company, May 20, 1868.

Holders of less than four Shares will be entitled to subscribe for a full Share, and those holding more Shares than a multiple of four Shares will be entitled to an additional Share.

Subscriptions to the new Stock will be received on and after May 30, 1868, and the privilege of subscribing will cease on the 30th day of July, 1868.

The installments on account of the new Shares shall be paid in cash, as follows:

1st. Twenty-five Per Cent. at the time of subscription, on or before the 30th day of July, 1868.

2d. Twenty-five Per Cent. on or before the 15th day of December, 1868.

3d. Twenty-five Per Cent. on or before the 15th day of June, 1869.

4th. Twenty-five Per Cent. on or before the 15th day of December, 1869, or if Stockholders should prefer, the whole amount may be paid up at once, or any remaining installments may be paid up in full at the time of the payment of the second or third installment, and each installment paid up shall be entitled to a pro rata dividend that may be declared on full shares.

THOMAS T. FIRTH,
je1:r4 Treasurer.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, June 19, 1868.

The excitement in the gold market is over. Those of the importers who got alarmed at the firm tone of the market and bought, will be very careful before buying again on a rising market when the chances of a decline were entirely in their favor. Those had sagacity and firmness enough to resist the temptation to buy may congratulate themselves, else they might have had to suffer to the exent of three to five per cent. The offer of the Assistant Treasurer to pay the 1868s before maturity has had a wholesome effect on the gold room, and they may desist for some time to run up the price of gold.

Government securities were firmer to-day, but the transactions were limited. Union Pacific Railroad bonds, which were to be had two weeks ago with all the gold interest on at currency rates, were sold up till to-day at par, ex-coupons, but to-day the company raised the rate to 102, with niterest from date, but cannot furnish bonds at once; those who secure a lot before July next by subscription will certainly go in a handsome premium, as from that date the rate will be ratsed to 105. The banking house of Ph. R. Mertz, on the corner of Wood and Fifth street, has secured a large lot at former rates, and may be willing to accommodate his friends at a concession of the regular prices.

Stocks are dull and inactive. Express shares declined considerably.

Mining shares are firm, but State stocks are still advancing.

Money easier. Business quiet.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 140¼; 1881 bonds, 117¼; 1862 5-20s, 113¼; 1864 do, 110¾; 1865 do, 110¾; new, 1865 and 1867, 113¾; Ten Forties, 106¾; Seven Thirties, 109¾.

New York Central, 133¾; Erie, 69¼; Miceigan Southern, 90¼; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 89¾; Northwestern, common, 65; Preferred, 78¼; Chicago & Rock Island, 105¼; Pittsburgh & Fort Wayne, 111½; Ohio & Mississippi Certificates, 29¼; Merchants Union Express, 27¼; Western Union Telegraph, 37¼; Corydon, 35; Quicksilver, 25¼; Quartz Hill, 1,25.

—From a statement previously given in this column it is apparent that $30,5000,000 of interest upon bonds becomes due on the 1st of July, the following being the details:

Interest on sixes of 1867 and 6868.$	217,500
Interest on fives of 1874	500,500
Interest on fives of 1871	175,000
Interest on sixes of 1881	8,510,000
Interest on Five Twenties of 1865 and 1867	21,000,000
Total	$30,493,050

At the same date there is also payable about $6,000,000 of principal of sixes of 1868, nearly all of which is held abroad. These bonds, however, are payable only at the eption of the Government after that date, and as we understand that the Secretary of the Treasury does not contemplate at present calling them in, it is to be presumed that no important payments on account of this loan will be made.

A considerable amount of older issues of the above bonds being held abroad, a proportionate amount of the interest payments of July will have to be remitted to Europe, the details of which may be thus estimated:

Interest on sixes of 1867 and 1868.$	190,000
Interest on sixes of 1881	5,000,000
Interest on fives of 1871 and 1874	400,000
Interest on Five Twenties of 1865 and 1867	1,000,000
Dividends on Illinois Central, $600,000 in currency	571,000
On other railway shares and bonds	2,000,000
Total interest and dividends to be remitted	$9,161,000

It thus appears that while $10,403,050 of coin becomes payable at the Treasury on interest account about $9,000,000 of interest an Government bonds and railroad securities has to be remitted.

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.:

Gold, 140¼; U. S. 6's, 1881's, 117¼; 5-20's, 1862, 113¼; 5-20's, 1864, 110¾; 5-20's, 1865, 111¼; 10-40's, 106¾; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 113¾; 5-20's, January and July, '67 113¾; June 7-30's, 109¾; July 7-30's, 109¾; May Comp., 1865, 119,-30.

IRON AND NAILS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, June 19, 1868.

A number of the mills, on account of the extremely hot weather, have reduced their production from double to single time, and are now preparing to stop their works during the months of July and August. Prices now ruling do not warrant manufacturers any margin to continue production. The demand for Iron continues very fair. Western consumers are buying largely for their summer work, and the merchant trade is fully equal to that of last year at this date. The demand for Nails had fallen off somewhat, but is still almost equal to the production. We have no change to note in prices.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, June 19, 1868.

There is no improvement in the tone of the general markets, and as the demand for almost everything is very much restructed, we have but very few round lot sales to record. In regard to values, there are no important changes, though as a general thing the tendency is downward.

GRAIN—Wheat is in fair milling demand, and we can report sales of Red from wagon at $2,20, and in larger lots at $2,25 to $2,30. Oats in consequence of limited receipts, continue steady, at 78 to 80 on track, and 83 to 85 for small lots in store. Corn is dull but not quotably lower; we can report a sale of prime Yellow (shelled) at $1,05; ear corn is in better demand than shelled, and may be quoted in $1,07 to $1,08. Rye is nominal, in absence of sales in $1,50.

BUTTER—There is a very fair local demand, and we can report sales of prime fresh packed; at 25 to 27.

EGGS—Very dull to-day, and under the influence of increased arrivals, prices are drooping; we can report sales at 26c.

CHEESE—Is in steady demand, with regular sales at 14 to 17c, according to quality.

POTATOES—Prime Peach Blows, for small lots in store, at $1,25 per bushel. New crop Potatoes, $6,50 to $7,50 per bbl, as to quality.

DRIED FRUIT—Is very dull, though without quotable change. We continue to quote at 6 to 7c for choice Apples, and 11½ to 12½c for Peaches.

FLOUR—Continues quiet and dull but unchanged; we can report small sales of Spring Wheat at $10 to $10,50; $11,00 to $11,50 for Winter Wheat, and $14 to $15 for fancy brands. Rye Flour, $9,50 to $9,75.

HAY—Weighmaster McNulty, at the Allegheny Diamond scales, reports sales of 38 loads at $12 to $20 per ton.

STRAW—Sales 6 loads at $12 to $15.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is scarce and in demand at $2,50 to $255, while Clover and Timothy are seldom mentioned.

SALT—Is dull and nominally unchanged; $1,75 to $1.80 to the trade, and $2 for small lots in store.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet and unchanged, with the exception of Shoulders, which may be quoted at 13¼ to 13½c; Sides, 15½ to 16 for Ribbed, and 17½ to 18c for Clear; 17¼ to 17½c for Plain Hams, and 19½c to 20c for Canvassed Sugar Cured Hams. Lard, 18 to 18½c for prime kettle rendered. Dried Beef, 22 to 23c. Mess Pork, $28 to $28,50.

LARD OIL—Unchanged at $1,23 to $1,25 for No. 2, and $1,43 to $1,45 for No. 1.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, June 19, 1868.

CRUDE—The Crude market was again fairly active to-day, the reported sales reaching about ten thousand barrels in the aggregate: though, as will be seen, prices have still further declined, both here and at Oil City. The sales were: 2,000 bbls on spot at 12½; 700 do do, at 12½; 1,000 to be delivered between the 1st and 10th July at 12¾; 1,000 between 20th and 30th same month, at 12¾ 3,000 bbls, measured in tank, at 12½. Private telegrams from Oil City report holders asking $5, with no buyers; sale of 1,000 bbls—made by a dealer here—at $4,90 delivered on Allegheny Valley Railroad cars. According to the sale above noted, oil has declined from 50 to 60 cts per bbl at that point.

REFINED—There was a fair business done in bonded oil to-day, and while spot oil was reported a shade easier, the late months, compared with yesterday, do not appear to have undergone any material change. Sale of 500 bbls for the last half of July at 31½c; 500 August at 32½c; 500 September, 32c, 1,000 August, 31½c; 1,000 September, 32½c; 500 August, 32½c; 500 September, 32½c. There may have been some other sales, but the above were all we had reported, and these are sufficient to establish the general tone of the market.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil reported to-day were as follows:

Fisher & Bro.	500	Leech & Wood	700
J. Spear	100	W. McCutcheon.	50

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

Some Eastern Manufactures.

EDITORS GAZETTE: Writing from Troy, N. Y., I gave you a sketch of the iron and steel manufactures of that city, and will now add a few desultory notes upon like matters at other places.

One of them, much like Troy in its natural capabilities and the variety of its manufactures, but far behind it in enterprise, is Trenton, New Jersey. The men and capital in the iron business there are mostly from other places. Roebling, the celebrated engineer, who developed at Pittsburgh from a scheming German into a real practical American, and whose first marks were the old Pittsburgh Acqueduct and the Monongahela Suspension Bridge, long since established at Trenton the wire mill which produces the cables for his bridges, and which will probably be soon at work upon the thousands of miles of wire required for the bridge across East river. The iron for his wire is made by the New York firm of Cooper, Hewitt & Co., now resolved into the New Jersey Iron and Steel Company, whose extensive works in the lower part of the city are noted especially for the manufacture of the largest wrought iron girders in this country. They were the first to establish this business, which has grown, with the extension of the use of iron for building purposes, into an immense interest, in which the original adventurers still hold the first places. To roll these beams an engine is used said to be the most powerful in any works in this country. Their whole establishment evinces unstinted outlay of capital where needed, and is well worth a visit from those interested in iron making.

I spent some time in the works of Wm. Sellers & Co., of Philadelphia, who, both for the amount and excellence of the machinery made by them, have long ranked above any similar concern in this country, and perhaps in the world. Here I found a great change in the general character of their work. Formerly they were almost exclusively makers of machinists' tools; now several specialities, as steam hammers, injectors, etc., exceed in amount the machine tool business, which has largely passed into the hands of the rival firm of Bement & Dougherty. The latter have the advantage of using later and better proportioned patterns, but in other respects the older firm seem still unsurpassed. Sellers & Co. have the exclusive patent right for the Giffard injector, which yields them a larger profit than all their other business. The latest improvement in their injectors consists in confining the overflow, so that it presses back a piston which shuts off precisely the amount of water which is in excess, thus making it self-regulating. The injector business is reduced to a system similar to that by which firearms are made, each piece being made exactly like the corresponding pieces in thousands of injectors of the same size. This enables the work to be done with great rapidity and precision, and almost wholly by machinery. Nearly all the parts being screwed into each other, cutting the screws forms a large part of the work done, and for doing this taps and dies are brought to a high degree of perfection. One tap of four inches diameter was shown me just as tempered, and for beauty of surface and uniformity of color, indicating like uniformity of temper and texture, was such as I had never seen equalled. Where steel of such peculiar excellence was required, Mr. George Sumner, the master forger of the works, told me he preferred that made by Park, Bro. & Co., of Pittsburgh. I scarcely think the medal which that firm received at the Paris exhibition so high a testimonial of the quality of their steel as the opinion of that one man.

At Bement & Dougherty's several improvements in machinists' tools have lately been introduced. Among their tools remarkable for size are a planer seventy-two feet long, and a vertical boring machine which will bore a cylinder of twelve feet diameter, or turn a pulley of twenty-four. One such machine is needed in Pittsburgh for fly-wheel pulleys, and other work of similar character. Most kinds of machinery made by them are in use at the Pittsburgh Locomotive Works, and some of their largest at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, where they are superceding machinery of New York make.

While mentioning that Navy Yard I will briefly notice one of the many objects of interest there—the double turretted monitor Kalamazoo, which, besides being of the largest class of monitors, the most heavily armored, and with the most powerful engines and boilers, has an entirely new feature, a heavy iron truss extending from stem to stern and from deck to keelson, supposed to be strong enough to support her entire weight if resting on a single point amidships. This vessel is still on the stocks, and has not yet received her armor and armament, both of which she gets from Pittsburgh; the latter is to consist of four fifteen or two twenty inch guns, the preference depending on the result of further target practice with guns of those calibres. When launched, she is expected to be the strongest ship afloat.

JOSIAH COPLEY, JR.

A Democrat on Grant.

Some months ago the Pittsburgh Post contained a leader under the caption of "The Duty of the Democratic Party in a Certain Event," from which we except the salient paragraphs without any further comment. They speak for themselves:

Suppose that contrary to the wish of some of the leading Radical Black Republicans, who want the office themselves, Gen. Grant should be nominated for the Presidency by the Republican party, what course ought the Democratic party to pursue?

Ought we to nominate a man in opposition to General Grant? Ought we to charge him with being an enemy to his country, or in favor of unjust measures, merely because he may have received said nomination?

We are inclined to believe that more depends upon General Grant now than upon any other individual in the United States. We believe him to be far superior to the majority of the far-sighted politicians who have been ruling the nation without bringing peace or economy to our legislation. He is known to all the people as a straightforward man, and, so far as can be judged, a man well disposed to deal fairly with the people of all sections of the Union.

What better thing can we do in case of Gen. Grant's nomination by the Republican party than to vote for him for the Presidency? Our aim should be to strengthen his hands; to render him as much as possible independent of party, and to elect him as the President of the people. If unanimously, so much the better.

We solemnly believe that if the people generally of the United States can come together with real unanimity on General Grant, in regard to the Presidency, it will be the happiest thing for our country that could possibly occur. The future good effects of this course are almost incalculable. We earnestly ask our Democratic friends everywhere to consider this subject carefully.

The Democratic Canvass.

The Presidential question in the Democratic ranks grows interesting. The movement towards Chief Justice Chase swells after the fashion of an avalanche. Already leading Democrats are reckoning up New York, New England, Virginia and several other Southern States, Indiana, and possibly Pennsylvania, for him. The Democratic members of Congress have been carefully canvassed on the subject; and out of the whole number only two are found seriously opposed to him, while one of them has committed himself to his support, in case he should be nominated.

The Hancock movement droops. Some of his warm supporters begin to talk of him as a good man for the Vice Presidency on the ticket with Chase. New York, it is now said, will not support him; and a Vice Presidential candidate from Pennsylvania has been started who may possibly divide with him the support of his own State. Without New York, at any rate, his chances are very slight.

Within the past ten days it is known that the Pendleton men have been greatly discouraged. The attitude of New York and the tendency of the Southern delegations combined with the sudden development of the Chase movement to inspire alarm. Nevertheless the West will make a gallant fight for him, and if it fails he will submit gracefully, as he always does, to the course of events. Those who are talking about Pendleton's renewing in the approaching Convention the struggle which Douglas made at Charleston and Baltimore, know neither the character of the man nor that of his supporters. It has even been asserted here to-day by those who have the means of knowing, that it is within the list of possible contingencies that Mr. Pendleton may withdraw his name in advance, or after the first ballot, and cast his strength for Chase. This, as yet seems scarcely probable, but it may may be set down as certain beyond the shadow of doubt that Mr. Pendleton will submit to the decision of the Convention, whatever it may be, and heartily support the nominee.

For the rest it may be said that as the Convention approaches, the managers regard no names as worth consideration save those of Chase, Pendleton and Hancock, although Hendrick, and Davis and one or two others, are still mentioned as remote possibilities.—Washinton Cor., Cincinnati Gazette.

The Southern Democracy.

In all the proceedings of the Democratic Conventions of the Southern States, very little is said upon questions of finance. Whether the debt of the United States is to be paid off in greenbacks or gold, is not, with them, the momentous question. They ask for a restoration that will make them the absolute arbiters of the future of the inferior race, and will not be satisfied with less so long as there is the faintest hope of accomplishing it. They rely upon the Democratic party as their dutiful ally. It was pro-slavery from the beginning, and will be, we fear to the end. Wherever it has gained a temporary ascendancy, in a Southern State or in the Ohio Legislature, it has shown the old pronounced hatred of the blacks, and its disposition to trample them under foot, regardless of all ideas of decency and justice. It is such action as the Ohio Legislature had at its last session that revives the hope of reëstablishing a great national infamy, through the agency of the Democratic party. The nonsense and rant about a white man's government mean nothing more nor less than a Government in which all rights and privileges shall be monopolized by one class at the expense of another.

It is for the people of the North to say whether a party, bound to its old pro-slavery traditions, and absolutely wanting in sympathy for a policy which tends to elevate all men and degrade none, shall receive a new lease of power, and use it, as upon a former occasion, to sacrifice the Union of the States upon the altar of human slavery. This question is involved in the campaign of 1868, and no kicking up of the dust about temporary questions of tariff and National Banks, and the payment of bonds, will blind the vision of the people.—Cincinnati Commercial.

Chase Has an Audience with Andy.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Chief Justice Chase arrived here yesterday from his recent visit to the South. Last evening he was at the White House and had a long interview with President Johnson. It is learned from high and reliable sources that the Radical condition of the South, and the prospective nomination to be made at New York by the Democratic Convention next month, formed the theme of the conversation between the President and the Chief Justice.

Since the name of Chase was first mentioned in connection with the Democratic nomination, Mr. Johnson has taken an unusual interest in the proposed convention. He has frequently expressed his preference for Chase to those who have introduced the subject to him, over all other candidates. In his opinion, the nomination of Chase would be a harbinger of victory for the Democrats, and his election would bring peace and quiet to the country, besides doing away with military rule and restoring a reign of law and order.

During the conversation last evening the President kindly expressed the hope that the Democratic Convention would have the wisdom and policy to nominate Chase, around whom the conservative and constitution-loving masses of the country would rally. If this was done he, Johnson, would do his utmost to secure the success of the ticket.

The Chief Justice thanked the President for his kindness, and expressed his willingness to accept the nomination on a platform embracing the living issues of the day.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Methodist Church, Fifth street, next door to GAZETTE office.

The weather yesterday was the hottest of the season, the thermometer standing ninety-three degrees in the shade.

The second concert last evening at the Rink was largely attended, and the vast audience was perfectly delighted.

Enclosed.—The new North Avenue M. E. Church, on the North Common, Allegheny, is being enclosed with a handsome paling fence.

Abundant.—Strawberries are in great abundance this season and of a very fine quality. They are selling in market at sixteen cents a quart.

Tent Service.—Religious services will be held in the Tent, corner of Seventh and Grant streets, to-morrow (Sabbath) afternoon, at 4 o'clock. All are invited.

False Pretence.—Alderman Miller had two cases of false pretence before him yesterday, which were compromised, the defendants in each case paying the costs.

Preaching To-morrow.—The Rev. James Y. Boice will preach in the First Reformed Presbyterian church (Dr. Douglas') tomorrow morning at half-past ten o'clock.

The Surf House at Atlantic City will be kept this season by R. R. Thompson, Esq., formerly so popular at Congress Hall, Cape May, and Metropolitan Hotel, Washington, D. C.

Fire Alarm Telegraph.—It requires eleven miles of wire to complete the circuit necessary for the working of the ten additional fire alarm boxes, which are now being put up.

Man Killed.—J. R. Hill, employed at the Osceola Coal Works, on the Monongahela river, above McKeesport, was killed yesterday morning, while at work in the pit, by a piece of slate falling upon him.

Not Proven.—Louis Bernard made information yesterday before Alderman Mullin against Jennie Williams for assault and battery, but failing to make out a case, she was discharged, the costs being paid by the prosecutor.

The Allegheny Park.—The Commissioners having in charge this matter seem to be the right men in the right place. They are pushing the work forward vigorously and the improvement is beginning to assume a definite shape under their management.

Horse Stealing.—Dr. John Burch made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters, against William Hodges, William Miller and others, for stealing a bay horse valued at $150. They were arrested and will have a hearing this morning at ten o'clock.

Larceny by Bailee.—A warrant was issued by Alderman Thomas yesterday, for the arrest of H. Burkhardt, charged with larceny by bailee, on oath of Jane Danks, who says she gave him five dollars to pay a store bill, which he neglected to do, retaining the money himself.

Fell in a Fit.—About six o'clock yesterday evening a man, whose name we failed to learn, fell in a fit on the southwest corner of Federal street and the Diamond, Allegheny. He was taken into the Mayor's office and after a short time was able to walk to his home in Manchester.

Selling Liquor on Sunday.—Conrad Schaff made information before Justice Ammon charging Charles Bauerhan with selling liquor on Sunday. The acused was arrested and after a hearing was held to bail in the sum of $300, for his appearance at court, in default of which he was committed to jail.

Hard on Strawberries.—Our energetic Sealer of Weights and Measures, H. B. Lyon, Esq., has condemned over four thousand boxes of strawberries this season. In one lot of one thousand boxes, not a single box held the required measure, each lacking one-half pint of a full quart.

Assault and Battery.—Lebbius Huff states that Jeremiah Kinley and Patrick Calohen without provocation attacked and beat him in a very brutal manner. The parties were arrested on a warrant issued by Alderman Taylor and after a hearing were held to bail in the sum of three hundred dollars each for their appearance at Court.

Business Difficulty.—Martin Gibson, of West Deer township, made information yesterday, before Alderman Neillie against Thomas Renoff. The parties it appears had a dispute in regard to some business transaction, in which Gibson says Renoff struck him several blows and pushed him out of his office. A hearing will be had in the case this morning.

Correction.—In noticing the accident which occurred at the corner of Fifth and Grant streets on Thursday evening, we stated that the Allegheny hose carriage ran over the girl, which was a mistake. We intended to say an Allegheny hose carriage. It was the carriage of the General Grant Fire Company, we are informed, but at the time of writing our account we did not know to what one of the Allegheny companies it belonged.

Strawberry Festival—Our readers should remember the strawberry festival at Excelsior Hall, Allegheny, for the benefit of the Board of Home Missions, Methodist Church, closes to-night. The festival will commence at three o'clock this afternoon and will be continued to-night. A splendid band of music will be in attendance, and everything that is necessary to spend a pleasant evening will be found there. We hope our readers will join in to-night and make it a grand success, as the object is a good one.

The Aquatic Contest.—Yesterday the second race between Hamill and Coulter was to have taken place in Philadelphia, but owing to the fact that Coulter broke his right oar on the third stroke, he dropped out, and Hamill proceeded over the course. During the afternoon a great crowd assembled on Fifth street to hear the result, but there was not so much excitement as prevailed on the day previous. It is quite probable that Hamill will receive the purse and continue to enjoy the championship.

Death of an Estimable Lady.—Yesterday morning, at four o'clock, Mrs. Eliza, the beloved wife of Mr. Joseph Fleming, departed this life for eternity. She was highly esteemed by all who enjoyed her acquaintance, being a Christian lady of many fine traits of character, warm, charitable heart and generous nature. Her early death will be sincerely regretted and mourned by a large circle of friends, and her husband has our sincerest sympathy in this the dark hour of sorrow and tribulation.

Yesterday our reporter made mention of the fact that Mr. William Semple, the well known Allegheny dry goods merchant, had been fined by Mayor Drum for a violation of a city ordinance by throwing rubbish on the Commons. Mr. Semple has ever been regarded as one of the foremost citizens of our sister city, and he would be the last man to violate any ordinance knowingly. Had the Mayor given the subject closer attention he would not have singled Mr. Semple out from among those who daily violate the ordinance, for an example, unless, indeed, he wanted one amply able to pay the fine. This is the first time Mr. Semple's name has ever appeared in such connection and we feel it was an act of injustice to him that it should have thus figured in the case referred to.

The Grand Concert Matinee This Afternoon.

At half-past two o'clock this afternoon will be held the grand concert matinee of over one thousand singers, children of the Public Schools of Allegheny City, under the auspices of Prof. W. H. Slack, at the Keystone Skating Rink. The House of Refuge inmates, the children of the various Orphan Asylums of the two cities and soldiers' orphans will be in attendance by invitation. The occasion will be one of the grandest and most impressive musical treats ever afforded any audience in this neighborhood, and we trust there will be a large attendance.

An Odd Case.

About a year ago, a youth of some seventeen summers, named Robert Sample, became enamored of a blushing maiden on the shady side of forty, and after a short courtship she consented to become Mrs. Sample. For a time all went merry as a marriage bell, but for several months past Robert has absented himself from the domestic hearth, leaving his wife to "paddle her own canoe." Not liking her husband's course in the matter, Mrs. Sample appeared before Alderman McMasters yesterday, and made information against the truant for abandonment. He was arrested and held in the sum of $500 for his appearance at Court.

Death of Mrs. Gen. Robinson.

Mrs. Mary Robinson, widow of General William Robinson, Jr., died in Allegheny at her residence, yesterday morning, at the ripe age of eighty years. She has, for more than half a century, been prominently connected with the charitable and philanthropic movements in both cities, and her name has ever been associated with kind deeds well performed. Thousands of warm friends will follow her to her grave mourning for the life that has passed away. Highly educated, of refined and polished manners, generous heart and the possessor of all the virtues which combine to make women loveable, she has passed through a long life, leaving behind her none but friends to stand at her grave.

Felonious Assault and Battery.

A difficulty occurred yesterday between a bar-keeper at a saloon on Market street, near Water, named Shultz, and Edward Smith, a colored man. It appears that the negro, in company with several others of his race, all river men, were taken into the saloon by a white man to get something to drink, and when the fellow came to pay for the drinks he had not money enough to do so, which raised a row, and by some means Smith and the bar-keeper got hold of each other, when Smith, it is alleged, cut him with a pocket knife, inflicting a severe wound in the nose. Information was made before the Mayor charging Smith with felonious assault and battery, and he was arrested and locked up for a hearing this morning at 10 o'clock.

The Glorious Fourth.

Our great legal holiday, the Fourth of July, will be observed in good style in every village, town and city in the country. With their usual enterprise the Messrs. Reymer & Brothers, the well-known wholesale confectioners, Nos. 126 and 128 Wood street, have laid in an immense stock of fire works of all descriptions, flags, Chinese lanterns, balloons, fire crackers, torpedoes, &c., the whole comprising the largest stock ever received by any house west of the mountains. This house has generally been regarded as headquarters for fire works, and nowhere else can a better stock at more reasonable prices be found. Orders by mail are promptly attended to, and dealers in the city securing their customary stock for the great holiday will consult their own interest by calling.

Conspiracy to Defraud.

Thomas Morgan and Margaret Edwards were before Alderman McMasters yesterday on a charge of conspiracy to defraud, preferred by Thomas A. Mellon, of East Liberty. It is alleged the defendants, who reside in Pitt Township, came to the lumber yard of the prosecutor and obtained 320 dollars worth of lumber on credit, stating that one of them, Mrs. Edwards, owned the 5th Ward Brewery, with several other houses, located in Pitt township, and in the 5th Ward, Pittsburgh, and that the lumber was for the purpose of erecting a new brewery on her property in Pitt Township. Instead of building however, the parties retailed it out, pocketing the cash. In the meantime the brewery, which appeared to have been only an old shed, was burned down, and when called upon to settle up for the lumber, the defendants represented that it had been destroyed in the fire. The accused were arrested, and after a hearing were each held for court in $1,000 bail.

The Bishop Bowman Institute.

The general examination of Bishop Bowman Institute commenced yesterday and will be continued till Thursday, when the commencement will take place in St. Peter's Church. The address on Thursday evening is to be delivered by Rev. Wm. P. Ten Broeck.

The second annual celebration of the Belle Letters Society was held at the institute last evening.

The young ladies presented a fine appearance, and the literary efforts of those who participated in the exercises reflected great credit upon the institution.

The meeting was called to order by Prof. Costor, who made a few remarks, stating the objects of the Society, which were to enable the students to better qualify themselves as writers and readers.

The exercises were commenced by a beautiful chant in which the entire school joined.

The patrons and friends of the school who were present, expressed themselves as much pleased with the propriety of the institute.

Youthful Travelers.

Two youthful travelers, giving their names as William Woods and Robert McDonough, aged respectively twelve and eight years, were arrested about one o'clock by Lieut. David Campbell, of the Mayor's police, in the office of the Excelsior Omnibus line, under the supposition that they were attempting to rob the money drawer. The boys, it appear, reside in Zanesville, Ohio, and, according to their statement came from that place to this city about nine o'clock on Thursday evening on a visit to Mr. George Clark, No. 227 Market street, Allegheny, who is an uncle of Woods'. They were looking for Mr. Clark's residence until late in the night, when they enquired of a lady on Lacock street, who took pity upon them and kept them over night. The next morning she gave them something to eat and they started out again to look for Mr. Clark's residence. After an unsuccessful search of an hour or two the boys became disheartened and concluded to return home to Zanesville. They went to the Union Depot and ascertaining that a train did not start for several hours, were loafing about the vicinity in order to pass the time away, and finally went into Mr. Pitcairn's office. As boys of their age usually are, they were perhaps a little too inquisitive, and finding no one in the office were making a reconnoissance of the premises when Mr. P. stepped in upon them and caught them looking over some papers in the cash drawer. The boys say they were not looking for money, but that they wanted a sheet of paper to write a letter. Lieut. Campbell, who happened to be in the vicinity, was called in and took the boys in charge, taking them to the lock-up. No information has as yet been made against them, and if their statement is found to be correct they will be sent home. They were both very poorly clad, being barefooted and having no coats on. The parents, if they have any, should take better care of them, as they are too young to travel alone.

Dr. Schenck's Familiar Talk to His Patients.

[As these plain, informal talks of Dr. Schenck to his patients contain much which may be of interest to all similarly afflicted, it has been thought best to report them occasionally, in order to place the Doctor's views before our readers. They take place at his rooms, at 32 Bond street, New York. He comes on every Tuesday from Philadelphia, and gives advice gratis, and also at his rooms in Philadelphia, every Saturday. He can be addressed by letter at any time.]

In what I shall say to you to-day I intend to use the plainest words I can find, so that you can all understand my meaning. I shall not use the technical terms of medicine, nor indulge in any theories or speculations.

By my remedies I claim, under God, to be able to cure Consumption. A stranger might naturally and properly ask: "How does it happen that you can truly pretend to know more about this terrible disease than all the acute and educated minds which have carefully made it a study for several hundred years?"

This would be a fair question, and shall have a fair answer. I do not claim to know more than the faculty do about the causes, nature, and history of Consumption. I suppose that my views on these points would be found to agree with those of most educated and intelligent physicians. We should agree that while the final cause is obscure; in other words, while it is impossible to say why Consumption selects this or that person as a victim, yet the predisposing causes, are:

1st. Inheritance. Consumption is hereditary in a wonderful agree. One parent very often entails it upon the offspring, and both still more frequently, so that whole families are often swept away, and hand the predisposition down to their children.

2d. Cold. By this we do not mean that those changes of weather which often produce inflammation, but long continued and steady cold, so that a condition of debility is produced. Indeed, whatever tends to produce long-continued debility will in some persons, generate Pulmonary Consumption. Prominent among these influences are insufficient diet, living in an unwholesome air, sedentary habits, grief, anxiety, disappointment, whether of the affections or in business, and all other depressing emotions, the abuses of mercury and the influences of weakening diseases. I also agree with the best doctors as to the manner in which the lungs become affected. Pulmonary Consumption is also called Tuberculous Consumption, by which we mean a disease of the lungs caused by tubercles. A tubercle is a small, roundish body, which is deposited in the substance of the lungs by the blood. This is the beginning and first act of the disease. Many of these are often deposited at once. Each one undergoes several changes, which I will not now explain to you, and after producing inflammation of the parts of the lungs next to it, ends in ulceration, opens a passage into the bronchial tubes, and passes out at the mouth by spitting. The place where the tubercle grew and ripened now becomes a cavity; and where there are a great many tubercles, of course they make a great many of these little cavities, which gradually unite and make great holes in the lungs. Unless a stop can be put to this process, it will go on until the substance of the lungs is consumed and death ensues.

Of course, I agree with the faculty upon the symptoms and course of the disease; the short, dry, hacking cough, so slight at first, but gradually increasing; then shortness of breath, a quickening pulse, then feverish sensations, flushing of the cheeks and heat in the palms of the hands and soles of the feet, the slight, but growing emaciation, with feeble appetite, hemorrhages, increasing cough, disturbed sleep, fevered tongue, then loss of appetite, taking to the bed, then expectoration of softened tubercle in the shape of small lumps of yellowish, cheesy, or curdy matter; hectic fever, brilliant eye, chills, night sweats, sharp pains in the sides, increasing emaciation and debility, disordered stomach and bowels, diarrhœa, nausea, swollen extremities, hollow cheeks, sunken eyes, weakness so great that expectoration is impossible; then death, bringing welcome relief from the tortures of this horrid monster.

Now, as I have said, I mainly agree with the medical faculty on these points. But when we come to the treatment of the disease I differ from it totally. The doctors believe Pulmonary Consumption cannot be cured. Therefore they do not try to do anything more than to smooth the patient's path to the grave, and seem quite reckless of the medicines they give, so that the patient is kept comfortable and easy, even if his life is shortened. As soon as tubercles begin to appear in the lungs of a patient, it is a common practice with many leading physicians to begin dosing with whisky in increasing quantities until the ravages of excessive dram drinking are added to the ravages of the disease. Or they send patients away from home on distant voyages, or to Minnesota or Florida—anything or anywhere, so that they may die easy. For they do not pretend to cure, and they have no remedies which will do so. Now I say not only the diseases of the lungs can be cured, but that my medicines do cure them. The proof is, that by their use thousands of Consumptives have been and are now being cured by them. The whole science of medicine is based on experiments. We cannot by any process of reasoning decide that any particular medicine will help or cure any particular disease. How was it found that Quinine will cure Chills and Fevers? Why, by trying one thing after another until experience demonstrated that it was a specific for that disease. In just that way I came to a knowledge of remedies that are specifics for diseases of the lungs.

Pulmonary Consumption is hereditary in my family. My father, mother, brothers and sisters all died of it. I had reached almost the last stage of the same downward road, when I was providentially led to experiment with my now famous remedies—the Mandrake Pills, Seaweed Tonic, and Pulmonic Syrup. As the result you see me before you to day in perfect health and weighing over two hundred pounds.

What cured me cured thousands all over the country. Now these results are not accidental. There is no such thing as an accident in nature. My remedies cure because my theory of Consumption is the correct one, and because these remedies accomplish what I desire to have accomplished by my treatment. I will try and make this plain to you. Whatever may be the cause, the origin of Pulmonary Consumption is in the blood. Whenever, from any of the predisposing causes which I have just now mentioned, the blood becomes degenerated, it begins to make tuberculous deposits in the substance of the lungs. This must be stopped, or death will surely follow. It will not be enough to get rid of the tubercles already deposited and heal up the sores already made, but something must be done to stop further deposits. What shall that be? The regular faculty say, Nothing can be done. I say purify, enrich and tone up the blood until it becomes so healthy as no longer to make tubercles. Can this be done? Yes. How? By the easiest and most natural way in the world. Take a man such as I see many before me to-day. He shows to the experienced eye, by many infallible signs, that Consumption has set in. He is feeble and without appetite. Now see what I intend to do.

First. I propose to cleanse his stomach and bowels of their dead, slimy, clogging matter. This I shall do with my Mandrake Pills, which are the best catharic Pills in the world. They contain no calomel or other minerals, only vegetable matter. They evacuate the stomach and bowels gently, but thoroughly, and do not weaken or gripe. They act like magic on the liver, rousing it out of its dull, torpid state, and promoting a full, free flow of healthy bile, without which there can be no perfect digestion. Now that the stomach and bowels are cleansed and ready—what next? Create an appetite. This I do by my Seaweed Tonic. The effect of this medicine is wonderful. Unlike a temporary stimulant, which by reaction lets the organs affected sink lower than before, this not only tones up the stomach, but keeps it toned up. The natural craving for food returns in all its force, so that we have now a stomach hungry for food and a digestive apparatus ready to make way with it. What next? You can, any one of you, answer that question. Put into that hungry stomach an abundant supply of various and nutritious food to be converted by the strange chemistry of digestion into rich red blood. This will stimulate the heart into stronger action, and it will pump a fuller current out through the arteries; healthy blood will take the place of the thin, blue, flattened fluid in the veins, and soon a circulation will be established which will flow through the lungs without making any unhealthy deposits; strength and flesh will increase, and the bad symptoms steadily diminish. At the same time use my Pulmonic Syrup, as you know I lay great stress on this in curing consumption. People die of consumption because they become so feeble that they cannot throw off the dead matter which accumulates in the lungs, until they are so stuffed and suffocated that breathing can no longer go on.

My Pulmonic Syrup is the best expectorant known. It blends with the food, and through the blood goes directly to the lungs, attacks and loosens up the yellow, foul, rotten stuff left there by the ripened tubercles, and strengthens and stimulates the bronchial tubes and coatings of the air passages, until they get strong enough to lift it out and expel it by spitting. Then the lungs get over their soreness and have a chance to rest and heal.

So you see that I have not only shown that my medicines do actually cure consumption by experiment, but it also seems plain that they, or something like them, would, from the nature of the case, do so.

I wish I had the time to explain to you more fully how they operate through all the different stages of the disease, and I wish you could follow me while I explained to you the wonderful mechanism of the human body. But I must stop. I sum it all up in this: Good food makes good blood, good blood makes good health, and my medicines, Mandrake Pills, Seaweed Tonic and Pulmonary Syrup, used according to directions, enable this to be done.

I see you here looking at me anxiously; I pity you from the bottom of my heart, and wish to help you. Perhaps many of you have only some slight disorder which resembles Consumption in some of its symptoms, but is not so. That I can determine with my Respirometer, which enables me to learn just in what condition the lungs are. For this examination I make a charge of $5. I am glad to see that you follow my advice about the necessity of avoiding exposure to cold and damp. You know I am opposed to any patient of mine going out into raw air with tender, sore lungs. Air that may seem only fresh to sound lungs, is raw and harsh to the lungs of a consumptive. Keep your rooms and breathe a dry, warm air, and only venture out in the very pleasantest weather. I hope to find you have improved when I see you again. d&w

Pure Mineral Water.

The marvelous properties of the waters which gush out of the more celebrated springs of the world have for many years attracted the attention of the learned and scientific, and in this day of deep research and mental advancement there are few so ignorant as to doubt the high medicinal character of these great curative contributions of nature. Up till recently none but the excessively rich could afford to avail themselves of their benefits, as to do so would involve a tour to Europe, or a trip to some point on our own continent, which they could not well make. Science, the best friend of the poor man, has robbed these springs of the closely kept secret of their charms, and to-day is known by all, the formula of the famous Vichy, the Kissengen, Congress, Empire, High Rock, and Gettysburg waters, and in the carefully regulated chemical laboratory i produced waters not in imitation, but as genuine as though poured out of the original springs by nature. Here in our city we have, at Clark's elegant new drug store, No. 103 Fifth St., on draught, constantly, all of the famous mineral waters we have enumerated, and they are as fresh, bubbling and pure as any could desire. Recognizing the want long felt in this community for a full supply of medicinal waters, Mr. Clark has made that branch a leading specialty of his business, and will devote much care and attention to it, so that the utmost satisfaction will be guaranteed to all who bestow on him their patronage. He supplies the water in quart siphon bottles, which draw it to the bottom and keeps it for any length of time pure, fresh and sparkling, and it can be used just as wanted, no part losing its gas till taken out of the vessel. When the bottle is empty it can be refilled, as Mr. Clark has an apparatus for so doing in constant operation. The waters are also sold in ordinary bottles. We were shown last evening a quart of soda or carbonic acid water which had been placed several days ago, with syrup, in a siphon bottle. When the lever was lifted the water came out with force, and was as strong with gas as if it had but left a fountain. The soda water fountain in Mr. Clark's store is of elegant workmanship and of novel design. Its cooling capacities are great, an advantage also obtained with the syrups, which are kept in clean, porcelain cups, coming in contact with no metal. We hope that generous patronage will flow in upon Mr. Clark since he has taken so much pains to supply a long-felt want in the community in giving prominence to the mineral water branch of his business.

New Improvement.

Among the many new improvements which we noticed in our wanderings through Allegheny a few days ago, was a row of neat two story brick buildings in course of erection on Buena Vista street, at the corner of Jackson, Second ward. This is a handsome new street, sixty feet wide, lately opened and running from the Commons to the foot of Observatory Hill. The houses in question are six in number, fronting on the new street and containing four very pleasant and comfortable rooms, with attic and substantial stone cellar underneath. Upon enquiry we learned that they were the property of one of Allegheny's most energetic and enterprising citizens, W. S. Taylor, Esq., who it appears is doing quite an extensive business in the building line just now. Mr. Taylor must be a very pushing man to properly attend to all these building operations and at the same time superintend his painting trade, which is of itself sufficient for one man. We congratulate him on his possession of this property as it cannot fail to be a very profitable investment.

The Best Family Sewing Machine,

In the world is Singer's New Noiseless Machine. Those of our readers who have not examined this marvel of perfection should call at the salesroom and do so at once, and be convinced that it is the best. It is very remarkable for its quietness, speed, lightness in running, ease of management, simplicity and perfection of parts. It is entirely different from Singer's old machine. The tension is really self-adjusting, running from various thicknesses of goods without change, and the feed motion is so perfect that the operator does not have to hold the goods stretched to prevent puckering even when sewing the finest Swiss or Nainsook. The hemmer is so perfect that it will make any width of hem, and fell in the most beautiful manner with less skill than is required to sew a straight seam on any other machine. The machine works equally well on the finest or coarsest materials, using all sizes of thread from the finest numbers of cotton to heavy patent or linen thread. Do not be influenced by agents of rival machines, who, by misrepresentations, try to prevent customers from examining this machine, knowing that their own will not stand comparison. Prices and terms to suit all. Straw & Morton, corner of St. Clair and Penn streets. TS

Ghost Stories.

One or more ghosts are frightening the people in our eastern counties. Many think it to be the shade of some departed redskin chief revisiting his former possessions, but as the apparition is seen in different places at the same time its being a shade in the singular number is open for debate. The most remarkable feature in the case is the fact that no two persons see the apparition in the same shape. For instance, three people may be together, one will see a great dog, another an immense bird, while the third will see a nondescript, with the legs of a man, the body of a bird, the wings of a bat, and the head of a horse. This interesting visitor from the other world is said to be moving westward. We shall anxiously await his advent in our neighborhood, and in the meanwhile advise our readers to call at the premium trunk factory of Joseph Liebler, No. 104 Wood street, and examine the very fine assortment of trunks, valises, hand sacks and everything in that way. They may be assured that there is not the ghost of a chance for purchasing anywhere else to better advantage, or of obtaining better selection.

Testimonial from Hon. John Covode, Member of Congress.

For more than a year I suffered inconvenience from a constant sounding in my left ear. On the 21st of May I applied to Dr. E. S. Aborn, at 134 Smithfield street, Pittsburgh. He relieved me at once, and from that day to this I have had no difficulty of any kind. Truly, 6t-d1t-w. JOHN COVODE.

The excitement attending the "Great Semi-Annual Closing Sale" of J. W. Barker & Co., 59 Market street, which commenced on Monday, is increasing amongst the ladies, if we may judge from the crowds which daily throng their store, and why should it not be so when we take into consideration the low prices at which they are offering all kinds of goods? There you will find a 4-4 Bleached Muslin at 12½c., worth 20c.; 4-4 Brown Muslin at 12½c., worth 18¾c., and a stock of dress goods so large and varied in style that it would be an endless undertaking to name prices for all, together with a heavy stock of all kinds of dry goods, but we recommend all our readers to call and examine for themselves.

The Most Elegant silk mantles were exhibited by Messrs. Bates & Bell, the well known dry goods dealers, No. 21 Fifth street, will now be found on hand at that house. The assortment is the most superb selection from among those expressly imported for the New York City trade, and is well worthy the inspection of all. The firm will take much pleasure in showing the stock to visitors whether they are desirous of purchasing or not.

Tumor in the Ear Removed and Hearing Restored.

Having suffered from deafness and discharge from both ears from the time I was seven years of age until last spring, (being now thirty years of age,) I take great pleasure in stating that I called upon Dr. E. S. Aborn, No. 134 Smithfield street, who removed from my right ear a large tumor (Polypus), under whose skillful treatment the discharges have nearly ceased, and my hearing restored so as to distinctly hear the ticking of a watch. It affords me great pleasure to be able to recommend the Doctor to the suffering and afflicted as one entitled to their confidence in all critical diseases.
